

LACLED GAS RATES
TO ALL CONSUMERS
REDUCED 5 CENTS

Effective March 15, the Price to Household Users Will Be $1 a Thousand Cubic Feet Instead of $1.05.

SAVING WILL BE $335,750 ANNUALLY

Reduction Is Second in Three Months for Large Consumers Ordered by Public Service Commission.

A reduction of 5-cents the 1000 cubic feet in price of gas to all classes of consumers in St. Louis was ordered today by the Missouri Public Service Commission, which estimates the saving will be $335,750 annually.

The rates will be effective March 15, the price to household consumers being $1 the 1000 feet, compared with $1.05, which has prevailed since April, 1921. The other rates, based upon amounts consumed, will become 80, 80, 70 and 60 cents.

Thus, large consumers obtain their second reduction within three months. On last Nov. 29, the commission established a new rate of 5 cents for consumers of more than $5,000 cubic feet a month and 65 cents for consumers of more than $10,000 cubic feet. The lowest previous price had been 35 cents. This reduction was estimated to have reduced the annual bills of large consumers by $82,000.

The commission today also ordered its engineers to proceed with a valuation of the Lacled Gas Light Co. property as soon as they have finished an appraisal of the Kansas City Gas Co. Recent opposition by the Lacled Gas company to rate reductions has been chiefly upon the ground that the commission's tentative valuation of $1,000,000 for its property is too low.

Today's decision of the commission virtually is a reconsideration of its November action in permitting the rates to householders to stand at that time the commission ordered a rate hearing after the Post-Dispatch had published that Lacled earnings for six months had been at an annual rate of $500,000 in excess of what the commission had regarded as a fair return under the tentative valuation. During the hearings the commission had before it a showing that approximately the same rate was maintained during three additional months, but it nevertheless allowed the rates to stand on the company's plea that operating costs were likely to increase, rather than decrease.

Profits for Quarter Greater. When the company's final quarter earnings for 1922 reached the commission that body perceived that they were greater than any of the preceding quarters, being equivalent to 1.52 per cent on the tentative valuation of the company's gas property.

Thereupon the commission summoned Lacled officials to Jefferson City for a conference yesterday and after consulting its own accountants today, announced the reduction, which, however, is less than 5 per cent to household consumers.

The 1922 annual report of the company to its stockholders, made public on Sept. 6, showed that net earnings had increased $1,293,596 over 1921 and that its net earnings available for common stock dividend were $1,089,645. The company paid 4 per cent to common stockholders, the recently declared, a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent and in its annual report showed a common stock reserve in excess of $200,000.

During the present session of the Legislature the Public Service Commission has been repeatedly criticized for failure to reduce rates of public utilities about the State and several bills designed to curb its power have been introduced.

HINES TO HEAD VETERANS' AID

ROCKEFELLER GETS FAMOUS
TAPESTRIES FOR $1,000,000

Disappearance of Works of Art Aroused a Storm of Protest in France a Few Weeks Ago.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—A set of six famous Gobelin tapestries, whose disappearance from France aroused a storm there a few weeks ago, has been bought by John D. Rockefeller Jr. It is learned. Although a representative of Rockefeller refused yesterday to reveal the terms of the sale, it is reported the tapestries cost $1,000,000.

The tapestries, representing "The Hunt of the Unicorn," were woven about 1450 for the Duke de la Rochefoucauld. They hung for centuries in the castle of Vertueil and were regarded as almost priceless works of art. It was believed the Count Gabriel de la Rochefoucauld, a wealthy man, had promised the tapestries would be allowed to leave France.

Last November the set was brought here by Edouard Lacled, vice president of the Chambre Syndicale de la Cartonnerie et des Beaux-Arts de Paris. The tapestries were exhibited privately at the Anderson art galleries for three days and it was predicted they would be bought by an American collector.

Immediately after the exhibition

M. Lacled returned to France. Nothing more was heard of the tapestries until a few weeks ago when French newspapers asked the minister of Fine Arts to ascertain whether they were still in France. The newspaper Bon Soir intimated that more than $1,000,000 had been offered for the set and said this was not sufficient reason for the Count de la Rochefoucauld to part with one of France's richest art treasures. Rockefeller is in Florida. His representative said last evening that after their exhibition here, the tapestries were taken to London and that they had been purchased there a few weeks ago by an agent of Rockefeller. They have been shipped to this country, he said, but have not yet been released by the customs officials.

"Before purchasing them," he explained, "Mr. Rockefeller had what he considered to be responsible assurances that their sale was duly authorized by their owner, Rockefeller has no information as to any understanding between the owner and the French Government concerning conditions under which their tapestries might be removed from France."

COTTON REACHES 30C
IN FUTURES MARKET

Level Attained on Reports of Steadily Increasing Scarcity of Offerings in South.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The long-talked-of 30-cent level for cotton prices was reached in the futures market today on reports of a steadily increasing scarcity of offerings in the South and continued trade demand.

Contracts for delivery during May sold up to 30.25 cents, an advance of about $2 a bale above yesterday's closing quotation, and all old crop deliveries made new high records for the season.

In July, 1920, cotton rose to 43.75 cents on the New York Exchange, and 11 months later, or in June, 1921, was down to 10.45 cents. In late 1914, when the exchange was closed because of the war, cotton was offered as low as 7 cents.

Spot cotton here today was quoted at 30.15 cents. The low "spot" cotton price during the war depression was 7.25 cents.

WIDOW DIES AFTER TAKING POISON

Physician Says Woman, an Invalid for Ten Years, Told Him She Took Poison Because of Illness.

ESTATE OF HUSBAND WAS INSOLVENT

Claims Listed at $1,328,785 and Assets at $1,226,633—Insurance Not Subject to Creditors' Claims.

Mrs. Marguerite de Buys Orthwein, 47 years old, widow of Walter E. Orthwein, a bond and investment broker, died yesterday afternoon in St. Luke's Hospital from the effect of 12 mercury tablets swallowed a short time before at her home, 426 Lake avenue.

The fact that death was caused by poison developed today, when Dr. George M. Tuttle stated to the Coroner that he had been treating Mrs. Orthwein for 20 years for nervous disorders, which in recent years had made her an invalid. He said he was summoned to the house yesterday afternoon, after a neighborhood physician had arrived, and that Mrs. Orthwein told him she had taken the poison because of distress over her illness. After receiving Dr. Tuttle's statement, the Coroner announced that a formal inquest into Mrs. Orthwein's death would be held tomorrow.

Her husband died Jan. 15, 1922. She was the mother of Mrs. Charles Todd, Jr., of 531 S. 1st St., and of Walter E. Orthwein Jr., who lived at the Lake avenue home.

After her husband's death it developed his estate was insolvent, claims against it being $1,328,785.26 and assets, $1,226,633.35, showing a deficit of $102,151.93. Banks and trust companies, among the creditors, were protected by collateral securities.

Among the assets were many bonds issued by a county drainage district in Florida, which were regarded as valueless because the drainage work had not been completed, and the funds were exhausted.

Orthwein carried considerable insurance, payable to his wife and members of the family, and this insurance was not subject to creditors' claims.

He was a son of William D. Orthwein of 15 Portland place. His death followed an illness of six weeks from kidney trouble.

It was announced the funeral of Mrs. Orthwein would be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the New Cathedral.

WANTS MORE REVERENCE FOR DEAD MEN'S BONES

Cornell Professor Deplores Invasion of King Tutankhamen's Tomb in Name of Science.

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The motive "that leads men like Lord Carnarvon to show such utter irreverence for dead men's bones" was the subject of a lecture by Professor W. A. Hammond, dean of Cornell University.

In a lecture before his class in philosophy yesterday he said: "The twentieth century shows too little reverence. Think how you would like it if 3000 years from now the Saracens had superseded our civilization and had broken into George Washington's tomb at Mount Vernon. How would you like it if Abraham Lincoln's bones were carried off to Constantinople and placed on display in a Saracen museum? Yet that is precisely what Lord Carnarvon now is doing while the scientific world applauds."

"What we need is more conservative scientific investigation coupled with more reverence for departed human life."

CARGO OF DUTCH BRICKS COMING TO UNITED STATES

Holland Product to Be Placed in Competition With American Building Material.

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE POST-DISPATCH AND THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. AMSTERDAM, Feb. 27.—A Japanese steamer today is lying in the Dutch harbor near Rotterdam loading a cargo of Dutch bricks for New York.

Negotiations for the delivery of Dutch building materials to the United States were opened last summer between the Groningen Brick Works and an American firm. These failed because the price of bricks in America suddenly slumped but now the price of bricks in Holland has also slumped and therefore Dutch bricks can compete successfully with the American product in American markets.

"We hope our product will please the Americans," said a Groningen manufacturer to the writer, "and we certainly shall be able to sustain competition, for, despite the fact that our yards for a long time have not been working at full capacity, we have large stocks lying unsold."

MISSILES HURLED

Crowd Shouts for Quick Justice for Prisoner Who Confessed Luring Children for Auto Ride.

CHILD'S BODY FOUND ON ICE OF CREEK

More Than 50 Policemen in Room at Hearing—Officers Resort to Raise in Departing With Prisoner.

By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—While a crowd of men and women on the street shouted for swift justice, Wylie F. Morgan, slayer of six-year-old Lillian Gilmore, today was held without bail in a police station in the northeastern part of the city.

Then, when he was removed from the station to a prison van to be taken to City Hall, a shower of stones and other missiles was hurled at the frightened prisoner. No one was struck and no arrests were made.

Morgan's confession of kidnapping, attacking and killing the child, whom he took away with her four-year-old sister, Dorothy, from near their home last Saturday, in a motor car, was obtained by police last night. Dorothy was returned home a few hours after the kidnapping. Lillian's body was found last night on the ice of Nesaminy creek, 20 miles from Philadelphia.

There were more than 50 policemen in the hearing room of the station house when Morgan was brought before a police magistrate. The details of the crime were quickly told and the prisoner was held for the formal action of the coroner.

A ruse to save Morgan from harm was resorted to by the police in taking him from the police station. A policeman disguised somewhat like the prisoner was taken in full view of the crowd to a prison van and when the crowd rushed in his direction Morgan was quickly brought out and placed in another van, but not before some of the crowd realized what was being done and hurled missiles at the slayer.

Morgan made a signed statement; the police said, setting forth in detail how he had lured Lillian and Dorothy from their home for an automobile ride, how he had taken them to a vacant lot, how the older girl had died during an attack and how he had taken her body to the isolated spot 20 miles north of Philadelphia, returned to the city with Dorothy and put her out of the car within a few blocks of her home.

There was a pathetic scene as the hearse bearing the body drew up in front of the Gilmore home. The child was a favorite in the neighborhood. Inside Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilmore, the parents, sat with their other five children and a number of friends.

SENATOR CARAWAY VICTOR
IN A FIGHT ON THE STREET

Belabors Opponent With His Umbrella After Taking a Short Rest on the Floor.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Blows were exchanged by Senator Caraway of Arkansas and another passenger on a Washington street car today after the man had been accused of jostling the Senator and using offensive language.

The disturbance occurred at Fourteenth and H streets Northwest, after both had left the street car, the unidentified passenger striking Senator Caraway on the face and the Senator retaliating with blows with his umbrella on the man's back.

According to the Senator, a fellow-passenger standing behind him insisted on knocking the Senator's hat down over his eyes, and the Senator's gentle remonstrance was returned with advice not to be "so grouchy about it" and to "shut up."

The Senator replied with the quick repartee which has attracted some attention on the floor of the Senate and offered to exchange cards and have a meeting later. To this the stranger responded by leaving the car with Senator Caraway in pursuit.

In the street, the passenger, a little fellow about 45, squared off and shot a short jolt to the Senator's face. Mr. Caraway returned the compliment with his umbrella, and in the mauling both men lost their hats. The Senator's opponent cried enough, whereupon Senator Caraway returned to him his hat and the fight was over.

FOR PLACE IN CABINET AS HEAD OF POSTAL DEPARTMENT.CHANGES WILL BE EFFECTIVE MARCH 4

Nomination of Work to Be Secretary of Department of the Interior Also Is Transmitted by Executive.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Without reference of the name to a committee, the Senate this afternoon in open session, confirmed Senator Harry S. New of Indiana as Postmaster-General almost immediately after the nomination had been received from the White House.

Senator Lodge interrupted a speech by Senator Stanley of Kentucky to put a motion that New be confirmed and the Senate passed with a vigorous chorus of ayes, in which the Democrats joined with gusto. It is the custom of the Senate to approve immediately and in open session any nomination of a Senator to a Federal office.

With the nomination of New to head the Postoffice Department, the President sent in that of Hubert Work, the present Postmaster-General, to succeed Albert B. Fall, resigned, as Secretary of the Interior.

Both these nominations were definitely forecast in the Post-Dispatch last Friday. Work's name was not passed upon by the Senate at the same time as New's, but there is no doubt that he will be confirmed. The changes in the Cabinet will become effective March 4.

MOROCCAN TROOPS IN KONIGSWINTER

Town in Rage Over Action of French Soldiers in Breaking Into Customs House, Confiscating Seven Pfennigs, and Search of Hotels.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Feb. 27.—British authorities in the Rhineland have been instructed to investigate reports of alleged holding up of British-owned goods on the Rhine by the French and Belgians, according to Roland F. McNeill, Undersecretary of State for Foreign Affairs. McNeill stated that the British officials had been instructed to take such action as might be possible to protect the interests of British firms.

The French have agreed to surrender German money seized at Cologne last Saturday, which was intended for use in paying British troops, it is said here today. The tension caused by the incident has been relieved, although the position is still delicate. The Cologne correspondent of the Times reports the British firm's demand for the return of the money. Labor leaders yesterday gave notice of a motion in the House of Commons favoring asking the Chamber of Deputies at Paris and Brussels to appoint a committee for an exchange of views with a similar committee appointed by the House of Commons regarding the Ruhr occupation.

MOROCCANS IN OCCUPIED AREA. The Times Cologne correspondent, who says that he visited Konigswinter, 20 miles southeast of Cologne and one of the towns the French entered on Saturday, asserts that he found it occupied by a company of Moroccan troops, "probably the Bonn garrison," although, except for two sentries, the Moroccans appeared to be confined to quarters. "At the Burgomaster's office," the correspondent adds, "I found the officials in such a rage over the 'storming' of the little town by cavalry, colored infantry and marines that it was difficult to get a sensible account of what happened. I learned that the French, upon their arrival immediately went to the customs house and broke into the treasury and confiscated the contents, exactly 7 pfennigs, after which four leading hotels were searched. But no arrests were made and the only proclamation issued was a demand for the surrender of firearms."

ANOTHER GANG FEUD BREAKS OUT; MAN IN AUTO SHOT

Charles Amaler, Proprietor of Roadhouse on Tesson Road Near Gravois, Wounded Three Times.

Arrests made today in the police inquiry into the shooting of Charles Amaler, roadhouse proprietor, in his automobile on the 6400 block of Gravois avenue, at 11:15 last night, showed the belief of the police that the attack on Amaler had no connection with the deadly warfare of the Egan and "Jelly Roll" Hogan gangs, now in active progress.

The men arrested for questioning and held at the Wyoming street station, were men known to the police as being in the Shenadoah gang, a group of South Broadway trouble makers. None of them has been identified with either the Hogan or the Egan gang, compared with which the Shenadoah gang represents only a "minor league" manifestation of lawlessness.

Amaler, who is 35 years old, and lives at 2248 South Broadway, is in the city hospital, suffering from bullet wounds in the left forearm and the right knee and a flesh wound in the back. He was shot as he was driving home from his roadhouse, the Tesson Family Club, on Tesson road near Gravois.

Amaler said to the police that he saw a Ford sedan being driven first ahead of him, that it fell behind and then came alongside, and the man in it, four or five in number, he thought, began shooting into his car. He said he believed some 20 shots were fired. The police found evidence of at least 14 shots on the car, and the marks showed that 38 and 45-caliber weapons were used.

After the shooting, the assailants turned and drove west. Amaler was able to run his car to King's highway, where he was arrested. Amaler ran a saloon at Broadway and Duchouquette street until about six months ago, when he took over the Tesson Club. The police records show that he has been arrested 16 times, several of these arrests being on liquor law charges. Amaler formerly associated with the Shenadoah gang, the police say, and the belief is that he became involved in a county bootleggers' quarrel, or that rivalry between his roadhouse and another establishment may have made ill feeling.

Arrested After a Shooting. Last April, Amaler and two other men were held for questioning after they carried into a building on South Broadway a man who had been shot in the leg. The bearers of the wounded man said that they all had been held up, and that the wound was inflicted by the robber. Amaler was able to sit up this morning, and when three of the men arrested in the inquiry were brought in, he greeted them and said to the policeman that the men were his friends. "I won't be able to identify anybody," he said. "I didn't get a good view of the men, as I turned my head away when the shooting started." He said he was not a member of any gang. County officers say that his roadhouse has been conducted without complaint of disorder.

Ten candidates at today's primary are to be nominated—two for Mayor and eight for the commissions. Candidates endorsed by the Klan are M. L. Harris for the office of Mayor, and for the commissions Ralph Cook, August Eggmann, S. F. Porter and the Rev. William Robert (Fighting Bob) Evans, pastor of Bond Avenue M. E. Church.

Three invisible and mysterious citizens of the "Invisible Empire" are taking an active part in the primary voting today. They are Mr. Kotop, Mr. Potomac and Mr. Sanbor. Klanism at the polls are telling their friends to vote for Kotop.

"Kotop" is the word of recognition among Klan members and his letters are the first letters of the "Klanmen observe their oath persistently."

If the man thus addressed is a Klan member he will answer "No, I will vote for Potomac." If he is not, he will answer "Yes, I will vote for Kotop." The word transposed and means that he is a Klan member and will acquiesce. "Sanbor" is the word of warning, its letters being the first letters of "Strangers are near; be on guard, and be used by one Klanman to another when someone approaches, or to thwart eavesdroppers.

Anonymous printed matter containing attacks upon the Police Department and several thousand copies of a replate of a Klan publication, in which it is sought to excite the mob against the police, were circulated in parts of the city before daybreak. Special officers were assigned to investigate with a view to arresting those responsible for the circulation, distribution of which is forbidden by law.

Primary Campaign Closed With Meeting at City Hall Auditorium.

The East St. Louis primary campaign closed last night with a meeting at the City Hall auditorium, called by the "Good Government League." Dr. L. E. Brown of Atlanta, Ga., the speaker, arrived at 9:30, the preceding time being consumed in a speech by Alexander Flannigan, East St. Louis lawyer and editor of a weekly publication.

Dr. Brown, who addressed all departments of government, said East St. Louis was the worst city morally in the world and urged that the voters today "put the ins out and the outs in."

He said that government, since the days of the Civil War, has been "by, of and for" the corporations and millionaires. He said East St. Louis has been governed by bribery. "I know how they obtain railroad franchises here because I have obtained them," he said. He said a railroad president some years ago gave him $10,000 to pass an ordinance through the East St. Louis Council. "I gave the Mayor $1000, gave $500 each to a number of Aldermen and kept $3500 for myself," he said.

Brown, whose speech was cut short after he had been heckled, urged an all-American nation, by stricter immigration laws. He said the salvation of the nation rests upon its adherence to Christianity, the sanctity of the home and the welfare of the public schools.

HOUSEKEEPER HELD AFTER MURDER OF RICH CONTRACTOR

Woman Employed by Frederick Schneider Denies Any Knowledge of Shooting in Automobile.

BLOND WOMAN SEEN NEAR MACHINE SOUGHT

Schneider Was Separated From His Wife, but She Says They Were Not Unfriendly.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—A blond woman, well dressed and carrying a dark bag, is being trailed today by 40 detectives, instructed to find the woman in the case, believed by the police to have murdered Frederick Schneider, 47 years old, wealthy contractor in a barren spot on Sound View avenue, in the Bronx, last night. The police have an accurate description and a coat supposed to belong to her.

Mrs. Annie Buzzi, 30, known as Anna Schneider, housekeeper for Schneider, was arrested today as a material witness. She denied all knowledge of the crime, after detectives had questioned her for six hours. She became hysterical when lodged in a cell.

Mrs. Buzzi was divorced from her husband in a suit in which Schneider was named as correspondent. The police say she was known to her neighbors as Mrs. Schneider.

Meanwhile the police are continuing their search for the blond woman.

Slain at Wheel of Auto.

Schneider, executor of some of the biggest construction jobs in the East, and a member of half a dozen clubs, was separated from his wife, but they were not unfriendly acquaintances.

He left his office in mid-afternoon, after lunching with three of his stenographers, and fetching his pet chow dogs, Hula and Zulu, drove to one of his projects to consult with

Stephen William Schneider, and engaged to meet him at the downtown office at 5:30 p. m. He drove back to his Broadway office and there he met the blond woman who was awaiting him.

The woman, seen by two shopkeepers, is believed by the police to have accompanied Schneider in his automobile. Nicholas Fusiner, a truck farmer, who saw the car shortly after the shooting, said he was near his home when he saw the automobile coming toward him. He heard two muffled reports, saw the car lurch forward, and then stop.

Woman Seen Near Machine.

One story is that Fusiner saw the woman emerge from the curtained tonneau, look back and then vanish in the twilight; another is that he simply saw a woman a few moments later walking away.

Upon looking into the tonneau, when the woman disappeared, Fusiner saw Schneider fallen over the wheel, dead, one hand in his overcoat pocket, the other on the steering wheel, the foot clutch disengaged. He called the police.

Now they obtain railroad franchises with a .38-caliber pistol, lying beside him. He could not have killed himself in the position in which he was found, police said. He was shot in the neck and behind an ear.

The total reported at yesterday's meeting was $159,950, in $42,000 of public utilities, announced at today's meeting, added to 40 pledges of $500 or more each, announced this morning, made an aggregate of $76,110 in pledges of this classification made known today, which are as follows:

$1500—Thomas H. Wright, Andrew W. Johnson, A. Leschen & Sons, Roeder Co., D. R. Calhoun, David H. Francis.

$1100—William E. Guy.

$1000 each—E. B. Stude, More-Jones Brass & Metal Co., John B. Strauch, Mr. and Mrs. Horton Watkins, Theophilus Conselman, H. Worthington Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Calfee, Alfred Clifford, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Pfleger, Charles P. O'Fallon, Charles Naeel, Euston A. Skinner, Stationery Co., Marshall Hall.

$600—Mr. and Mrs. Clay E. Jordan.

$500 each—Miss Grace E. Bell, Marion C. Blossom, Mr. and Mrs. John

Death was instantaneous. The wife denied any knowledge of the crime and said she and Schneider had "always been on friendly terms."

Schneider had a $1,000-a-year contracting business, detectives were informed by William Schneider, who is a member of the firm of Frederick Schneider, Inc., which the slain man headed.

Frederick Schneider was the builder of the Theodore Roosevelt, city's biggest apartment house.

WOMEN TRY TO FIND WORK FOR CLERK DRAWING $150 A MONTH

A delegation of women from Kirkwood and Webster Groves, many of them members of the Clean Election League, visited the Clayton courthouse today to see if they could find work for J. H. A. Buermann, assistant clerk of the St. Louis County Jury Commission, whose salary is $150 a month.

Buermann was appointed by the County Court to act as an aide to Circuit Clerk Kirchner. The Circuit Clerk, however, declined to have anything to do with Buermann and would not allow him office space. The latter's friends say this is because Buermann is a Clean Election League member, while Kirchner is allied with the Esen faction.

The women found the situation unchanged, according to Mrs. E. E. Williams and Mrs. J. W. Pierce of Kirkwood, who led the party. The County Court said it was up to Kirchner and Kirchner told the women he still is determined not to have Buermann as his assistant.

PERSONALITY'S THE THING, NOT VOICE, HAMMERSTEIN SAYS

"Mary Garden Has About the Worst Voice Now on the Stage, but Look at the Hit She Makes."

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Famous divas were used today by Arthur Hammerstein to illustrate his theory of the ratio existing between personality and bank accounts. Mary Garden has about the worst voice now on the stage," declared Hammerstein, "but she has personality and she has been one of the greatest hits in opera since my father signed her up many years ago. Cavalletti came to America the most beautiful of women, with a gorgeous figure, but she had no personality and she was signing for a $300 a night while Mary Garden got $2500."

Hammerstein thus committed himself while testifying as an expert for Jacob and Lee Shubert in their suit against Ed Gallagher and Al Shean, to restrain the team of humorists by injunction from appearing for $750 a week, but later went on to establish through their expert witness that Gallagher and Shean were performing service of an extraordinary character.

Testimony has revealed that Shean paid Gallagher and Shean $1500 a week. The Shuberts claim the defendants contracted with them to appear for $750 a week, but later went on Keith's circuit at $1000 and then with Ziegfeld.

Co-Operative Marketing Advised. JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 27.—The House Committee on Agriculture today advised the House to pass a bill to permit co-operative marketing and pooling of farm products. One of the principal demands for the measure came from the cotton planters of Southeast Missouri.

Father Dempsey, who it will be recalled, summoned the rival gangsters to his parochial residence last June and exacted pledges from them that they would put up their automatic pistols and leave each other alone, said today that he would have another "talk with the boys"—that is, the survivors of the inter-gang war—in the next few days.

"In the meantime," said Father Dempsey, "I hope the boys will ignore the loose talk that is going around in police circles about who is going to be 'bumped off' next, and that sort of thing. If there is anything that will stir up more trouble between the two gangs it is the predictions being made by detectives."

He is convinced that Mackler was killed because of a false rumor that Max Greenberg, who was said to have engineered the killing of Constable William T. Egan more than a year ago, was back in town. If the rumor is true, Dempsey believes the feud would end.

TO USE DIPLOMACY.

"At any rate I am going to give the boys another little talk and see what I can do with them. I am going to handle them with diplomacy."

Three men, said by the police to be members of the Hogan gang, were arrested at 3:30 p. m. today in a public washroom at Twenty-third and O'Fallon streets where detectives found three loaded revolvers lying on the floor.

The men said they were Harry Greenberg, 29, 5648 Elliot avenue; Pat Scanlon, 21, 1514 Elliot avenue; and Thomas Palma, 31, 1900 Bacon street. The warrants charging them with carrying concealed weapons will be asked for by the police.

Father Dempsey's true last June followed a series of clashes between rival gangs. In the previous month Hogan gangsters shot an automobile belonging to the Hogan family home at the front windows of the house and killed. The Hogan family was told to leave the house and the other cars waited for the Hogans to stick their heads out of the windows, intending to shoot them, but the Hogans kept their heads in.

Men Still Went About Armed. Members of the rival gangs also showed they were ready to violate their promises to the priest on the slightest provocation by going about armed, as they always had. Even "Jelly Roll" Hogan himself, who was a member of the State Legislature, was not considered a gunman, put a couple of big automobiles in his automobile, and when he was arrested he displayed a badge showing that he was a Deputy State Beverage Inspector and was authorized to carry a weapon as a peace officer.

When asked about his pledge to Father Dempsey he lowered his head as though slightly embarrassed, and said: "Well, I ain't going to let any of the Egan crowd bump me off."

Theories in Powers Killing. Although the majority of detectives still cling to their belief that "Little Red" Powers was killed in reprisal for the assassination of Attorney Mackler, a few members of the Police Department think it might have been something to do with the recent killing of "Okla-homa Red" Deaver, a fire-blower, at Mount Olive Inn, Spring avenue and Olive Street road, Feb. 11, and they are seeking a St. Louis gunman who is said to have figured in the Deaver killing in the belief that he might be able to throw some light on the Powers murder. However, the other detectives, knowing the disposition of a gangster with reference to "cutting," do not expect this phase of the investigation to lead anywhere.

FATHER DEMPSEY TO TRY AGAIN TO STOP GANG FEUD

Priest Who Exacted a Peace Pledge From Gangsters Last June Will Have Another Talk With the Boys.

ASSERTS IDLE GOSSIP INCITES TROUBLE

Hopes "Boys Will Ignore Talk About Who Is to Be Bumped Off Next"—Three Alleged Gangsters Arrested.

The Rev. Father Timothy Dempsey of St. Patrick's Church, Sixth and Biddle streets, is going to try again to stop the feud between "Egan's Rats" and the "Jelly Roll" Hogan gang, which has flared up with the recent killings of Jacob H. Mackler, lawyer for the Hogan gang, and "Little Red" Powers, member of the Egan gang.

Father Dempsey, who, it will be recalled, summoned the rival gangsters to his parochial residence last June and exacted pledges from them that they would put up their automatic pistols and leave each other alone, and today that he would have another "talk with the boys"—that is, the survivors of the inter-gang war—in the next few days.

If there is anything that will stir up more trouble between the two gangs it is the predictions being made by detectives."

It was convinced that Mackler was killed because of a false rumor that Max Greenberg, who was said to have engineered the killing of Constable William T. Egan more than a year ago, was back in town. If the idle gossip would cease I believe the feud would end.

To Use Diplomacy.

"At any rate I am going to give the boys another little talk and see what I can do with them. I am going to handle them with diplomacy."

Three men, said by the police to be members of the Hogan gang, were arrested at 3:30 p. m. today in a public washroom at Twenty-third and O'Fallon streets where detectives found three loaded revolvers lying on the floor.

The men said they were Harry Greenberg, 29, 5648 Eitel avenue; Pat Scanlon, 21, 1514 Elliot avenue; and Thomas Palma, 21, 1900 Bacon street. Warrants charging them with carrying concealed weapons will be asked for by the police.

Father Dempsey's truce last June followed a series of clashes between the rival gangs. In the previous month Hogan gangsters in an automobile bombarded with bullets the front of the plumbing shop at Twenty-second and Washington avenue. "Dinty" Colbeck, who assumed leadership of "Egan's Rats" following the murder of Constable Egan, succeeded Egan on the Democratic City Committee, was owner of the shop, but was not in at the time.

A few days later Egan gangsters in their automobiles drove to the vicinity of the Hogan family home, 2045 Cass avenue. The "rats" in the first machine fired a volley of shots into the front windows of the house and fled. The "rats" in the two other cars waited for the Hogan gang to stick their heads out of the windows, intending to shoot them, but the Hogsans kept their heads in.

Men Still Went About Armed.

Members of the rival gangs also showed they were ready to violate their promises to the police on the slightest provocation by going about armed, as they always had. Even "Jelly Roll" Hogan himself, who as a member of the State Legislature was not considered a gunman, put a couple of big automatics in his automobile, and when he was arrested he displayed a badge showing that he was a Deputy State Beverage Inspector and was authorized to carry a weapon as a peace officer.

When asked about his pledge to Father Dempsey he lowered his head to a thought slightly embarrassed, and said: "Well, I ain't going to let any of the Egan crowd bump me off."

Theories in Powers Killing.

Although the majority of city detectives still cling to their belief that "Little Red" Powers was killed in reprisal for the assassination of Attorney Mackler, a few members of the Police Department think it might have had something to do with the recent killing of "Ole, Oleson Red" Deane, a fire-blower, at Mount Olive Inn, Spring avenue and Olive street road, Feb. 11, and they are seeking a St. Louis gunman who said to have figured in the Deane killing in the belief that he might be able to throw some light on the Powers murder. However, the other detectives, knowing the disposition of a gangster with reference to "switching," do not expect this phase of the investigation to lead anywhere.

DRY BILL SUFFERS IN VIGOROUS ATTACK IN SENATE

McCawley Talks Measure to Cover After Month of Its Teeth Are Drawn.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 27.—Members of the Senate today pulled one of the sharpest teeth from the McCawley bone-dry bill when they struck out of the bill provisions for appointment of a state prohibition commissioner, a chief clerk, 10 deputies and certain clerical employees. Senator McCawley then moved to lay the bill over informally. This will enable dry forces to bring pressure to bear to round up votes enough to justify another trial with the bill, which was shelved from the time it was brought out until McCawley dragged it back to the bomb proof.

The first change was a broad amendment exempting all wine and other liquid of alcoholic content for sacramental purposes from operations of the act. Then Senator Irwin obtained backing enough to strike a section not very essential, however, from the bill. Finally came the adoption of Senator Casey's amendment striking out the enforcement department.

Senators Kinney and Brogan of St. Louis; Casey and Proctor of Kansas City; Irwin of Jefferson City and Pickett of Grundy led in the attack.

TRUST COMPANY COLLECTOR ROBBED OF $1600 BY TWO MEN

Robbers Return $6 to Clerk Who Told Them He Had to Work Hard for His Money.

The Laclede Trust Co., 12 South Jefferson avenue, announced today that $1600 was stolen by two robbers who held up Lester Quinlan, collector for the bank, in the office of the Popular Price Express Co., 210 North Eighteenth street, yesterday afternoon.

After obtaining the satchel in which Quinlan carried his collections, the robbers ordered Charles J. Jones and William Fitch, clerks, and Henry Williams, manager of the express company, to line up in the rear of the office.

When Jones was asked to hand over what was in his pockets he remarked, "I had to work hard for this money." "All right, buddy," one of the robbers said, and returned the $6 Jones offered.

It was the third time in a year the express office has been held up. The bank's loss is covered by insurance.

SMOKE COMMITTEE DESIRABLE NOW, PROF. OHLE SAYS

Chairman of Advisory Board of Engineers Would Give Women, C. of C., Architects and Realty Men Places

LISTS FACTORS ON INCREASE IN SMOKE

Low Grades of Fuel Used During Strike and Tendency Away From Anthracite Because of Price Cited.

The appointment of the Smoke Regulation Committee of five members, provided for in the smoke-control ordinance of 1918, seems desirable at this time, Prof. E. L. Ohle of Washington University, chairman of the advisory board of three engineers for smoke abatement, said today.

Director of Public Safety McKelvey said yesterday that if Prof. Ohle thought such a committee desirable he would appoint it. He said that when he appointed the advisory board of engineers in February, 1922, it was with full authority to act as it saw fit in smoke abatement.

Prof. Ohle said that, in his opinion, the committee should be responsible for the adoption of women's organizations, the Chamber of Commerce, architects, the real estate exchange and coal dealers. He pointed out that the women were responsible for the original agitation which led to the passage of the ordinance, the Chamber of Commerce membership included most of the large factory owners, the architects and the men were the operators of factories and residences, the coal men could aid by the knowledge of desirable coals for various uses, and the real estate men were the operators of apartments, which, it lately has been recognized, contribute as greatly to the smoke evil as factories.

Delayed by Bond Work.

Appointment of the committee was undertaken by Prof. Ohle last autumn, before the period of maximum fuel consumption set in, but, he said, he found most of the men who were desirable for membership involved in bond-issue activities and hesitant to undertake further civic responsibility.

"In fact, the year has been a difficult one for progress in smoke abatement," Prof. Ohle said. "In the beginning of the coal burning period there was a strike of miners and consequent coal shortage. Factory operators were compelled to burn any coal obtainable. Often this was unsuited to their needs and quite unproductively of much smoke. After quite lengthy consideration, the Advisory Committee felt that it would be wise to penalize industry still further by strict enforcement of the ordinance and we proceeded with instruction in the methods desirable to produce a minimum of smoke."

Factors in Smoke Increase.

"When this emergency ceased it was followed by a period of high prices for coal, which contributed also to the volume of smoke. Many coal burners, who commonly had burned the soft coal, were forced to use bituminous coal by the price. Then, still others who had been converted to smokeless coke were unable to get coke and returned to soft coal."

"However, even with fuel conditions adverse to smoke regulation, the quantity of smoke can be reduced if a sufficient percentage of coal burners will labor for a minimum of smoke instead of striving only to meet the ordinance, and if householders will give some consideration to intelligent firing."

Elderly Storekeeper's Matrimonial Agency Bride Learns of It and Seeks Divorce.

Married in June, 1920, as a result of a matrimonial agency advertisement, Mrs. Sarah J. Runyon, 62 years old, of 2923 St. Louis avenue, and Gifford H. Runyon, 68, proprietor of a store at Bonne Terre, Mo., today told in the Court of Domestic Relations how their marital craft had gone upon the rocks.

Mrs. Runyon has sued for divorce, charging lack of affection, and her husband has filed a cross bill and answered charging desertion and denying his wife's charges.

Mrs. Runyon, who testified first, told they were married June 11, 1920, at her home in Worthington, Minn. She had advertised for a husband and Runyon was one of 22 who replied.

Says He Ran When She Kissed Him.

They corresponded for three months. Then Runyon visited her about a week after which they married and moved to Bonne Terre.

Mrs. Runyon said she was forced to live in one room behind the store. Her husband borrowed $500, she said, adding that it hasn't been repaid. Efforts to borrow more money having failed, Runyon became indifferent, Mrs. Runyon testified. She said that when she tried to hug and kiss him, he ran around in the store and she couldn't catch him.

Mrs. Runyon also said her husband, since his marriage to her, has corresponded with about 20 other women who have advertised for husbands. She said she intercepted a letter from a woman at New Castle, Pa., and answered it herself.

Husband Admits Writing.

Runyon admitted the method of meeting his wife. He said he was the fourth advertisement he had answered. He admitted writing since his marriage to 17 other women who want husbands, but said he did it merely to ascertain what caused trouble in his home life.

Runyon's attorney introduced the woman in New Castle, Runyon having made a trip there to get it. In the letter Mrs. Runyon referred to her husband as an "old bag of bones," and said he lacked "pep."

The Runyons separated March 9, last. Mrs. Runyon said she was put out. Runyon said she came to St. Louis to visit her sister and would not return. The case is under advisement.

WOMAN WHO KNEW MEN KILLED BY MURKIC IS HELD

Louise Gerry, 24, Says She Believes Assaults of Saloon Keeper Were Looking for Another Man.

POLICE STILL THINK ROBBERY WAS MOTIVE

Woman Asserts She Used to Meet Employee of Saloon and That C. G. Ferris Became Jealous.

Louise Gerry, 24 years old, was held by the St. Louis police today, in connection with the investigation by the East St. Louis police of the killing of two men, supposed to have been robbers, by Mike Murgic, saloon keeper at Thirty-fifth street and Missouri avenue, outside the East St. Louis city limits, last Thursday night.

Murgic is in a serious condition in the Deaconess Hospital, East St. Louis, from a wound in the body, inflicted by one of the men whom he killed.

Louise Gerry left her room at the Aberdeen Hotel, Sixteenth and Market streets, St. Louis, soon after the news of the shooting was received. One of the men killed, it has since appeared, was Clifford G. Ferris, a Washburn railroad employee, who lived at the same hotel.

The police learned that Louise Gerry had been accustomed to go to East St. Louis frequently, and to meet there a man who was employed in Murgic's saloon. They traced her to the Arlington Hotel, East St. Louis, yesterday and arrested her.

When brought back she said that Ferris had learned of her acquaintance with the saloon employee, and that she believed he had gone to East St. Louis intending to shoot the man and had taken a friend with him. She said she believed the attack on Murgic had been a mistake, and that the employee was the man whom the two were seeking.

This explanation is not accepted by the police, who think the woman may have learned, through Murgic's employee, the time when Murgic would be likely to have money, and to have communicated this knowledge to the men. Murgic had $12 at the time of the attack on him.

The name "L. Gerry" was signed to a telegram which Ferris' companion sent to a man in Cleveland, asking for $100. This other man, whose body was found Friday morning some distance from the scene of the shooting, was known as John Apache in Cleveland, and as F. Moore at the Aberdeen Hotel, where he stayed.

In questioning the woman, the St. Louis police will endeavor to learn whether Ferris and his companion may have had any knowledge of recent filling station robberies in this city.

Has your mealtime drink said "Pay up!"

A GOOD many people have had that message from coffee or tea after the drug, caffeine, has had its effect upon nerves or digestion.

Frequently the message comes at night, when nerves won't quiet down and sleep won't come, after the dinner cup of coffee.

There's no unfriendly after-notice from that good cereal beverage, Postum.

Postum delights the taste, gives comfort and satisfaction, and is free from any possibility of harm to health.

Try Postum with your meals for a few days and let the whole family, the children included, share in its appetizing, invigorating goodness. It will bring better nights and brighter mornings.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully twenty minutes.

HOUSE TAKES WIND OUT OF SAILS OF ROAD COMMISSION CRITICS

Botts' Move to Reopen Highway Designations, Overwhelmed by Vote of 90 to 23.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 27.—The House today took the wind out of the sails of those who would disrupt the work of the state highway commission and reopen the road designations made by the Legislature in 1921. Representative Botts of Audrain County tried to put on the calendar for engrossment, despite an adverse committee report, a bill to reopen the designations.

Botts got only 23 votes while 90 votes were rolled up behind the House committee on highway, which had killed the Botts bill in committee. Action of the House today is expected to put an end at least to part of the attacks on the highway commission and the central road law.

ARSON CHARGE DISMISSED
Vincent W. Verzie Had Been Arrested After Fire in Store.

A charge of arson in the first degree against Vincent W. Verzie, 30, a jeweler, of 1007 Franklin avenue, was dismissed yesterday after Judge Falkenhainer had sustained a demurrer that the State, in presenting its case, failed to prove that Verzie was at or near his store during a fire there on the night of June 12, last year.

Firemen testified they found oil-soaked excelsior and paper burning in various parts of the store, and that the fire had routed several families from apartments above. Verzie's store had been the scene of two previous fires last year, according to witnesses.

SCOTT FIELD OFFICERS TO TAKE COURSE IN EAST

Instructions Will Be in Navigating Sister Ship of One German Are Building for U. S.

Col. C. G. Hall, commandant, and three other officers of Scott Field, the army's chief lighter-than-air flying field, will depart in a few days for the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J., to join a group of officers for instruction in navigating the ZR-1, giant airship of the rigid type.

The army is taking this means of preparing to handle a sister ship to the ZR-1 which is being built in Germany, to come to this country as a German reparations payment. It is believed that the new ship will be stationed at Scott Field, which has an enormous hangar. It may be sent here by December. Maj. F. M. Kennedy, a former Scott Field officer, is supervising its erection.

Officers who will accompany Col. Hall to Lakehurst are First Lieutenants C. L. Hutchins, O. A. Anderson and H. H. Holland. Their course will last from six months to a year. Maj. John A. Fargelow, who has been executive officer, will assume command of Scott Field.

The ZR-1 and the ship being built in Germany are of the rigid type, that is, they have steel framework supporting the gas bags, similar to Zeppelins. Only nonrigid ships are at Scott Field now.

Three officers and 20 enlisted men from the field will depart soon for Camp Bragg, S. C., for a two months' course observing coast and field artillery fire. Two officers are going to Rantoul Field, Ill., for a three months' course in aerial photography, including photographic map making.

Night flights in the vicinity of the field will be made this week in the big D-2, to try out new flood lights mounted on top of the hangar.

There are 12 of these lights, with lenses five feet in diameter, illuminating the landing place. Their glow can be seen for 20 miles.

RADICAL RATE CUT NOT JUSTIFIED NOW, REPORT SAYS

L. C. C. Statistician Also Declares Railroad Earnings for 1922 Do Not Warrant Pessimism.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Railroad earnings during 1922 do not "on the one hand warrant pessimism, nor, on the other hand, at present, any radical reduction in the total charges to the public for transportation," according to a report made to the Interstate Commerce Commission by M. O. Lorenz, director of its Statistical Bureau.

Out of a total of $117,000,000, which the railroads received in 1922, above their expenditures for operations, about $669,000,000, must be deducted for interests, rents and other fixed charges, Lorenz said, which showed, he added, that the "roads did not earn enough in 1922 to meet the 'margin above fixed charges obviously necessary in any business.'"

GOLFER DIES DURING MATCH

By the Associated Press.
BELLEAIR HEIGHTS, Fla., Feb. 27.—Colonel H. E. Crall of the Seventh Regiment of New York during the world war, died suddenly while playing golf on the Belleair links yesterday. He was playing in a match with Dr. J. A. Furfey of Brookline, Mass. Dr. C. M. Keefe of Cincinnati and Dr. E. S. Robinson of New York. The Colonel had just hit his third shot on the sixth hole. The shot was a good one and when one of the others in the foursome turned to congratulate him the Colonel was seen to reel and fall to the ground. His death was due to heart failure.

LEADERS FAVOR U.

Prominent Men Say President
Step in Response to Gro
ment for League

Lead Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—At the time of prominence have expressed views upon President Harding's proposal to the Senate that the United States become a member of the permanent Court of International Justice at The Hague and, at the same time, avoid any legal relation with the League of Nations. Some opinions received yesterday follow: Alton B. Parker, former Justice of the Appeals, and once Democratic presidential candidate: It is a pity that political ambitions and partisan prejudices prevented such a compromise long ago, as world peace has made our nation a party to a so-called League of Nations at least. In the circumstances it seems to me that the President has taken the wisest step possible at the moment, and I hope it will be promptly acquiesced in by the Senate.

Frank L. Polk, formerly counsel of the State Department: The proposal, I assume, is merely a gesture to soothe the growing majority of the American people who are demanding a policy of participation in the world's affairs, as the administration could not have had any serious thought that it would be bound at this season of Congress. However, any recognition of the reality of our participation in matters beyond our own borders should be encouraged.

George Gordon Battle, lawyer: I am heartily in favor of our Government becoming a member of the international court. I believe the court affords the best opportunity for the different nations of the world to settle their disputes.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 27.—Argument by the Senate and House yesterday of bills to abolish the State Tax Commission marked the beginning of the final drive to enact into law the retrenchment program of the Democrats, who control the present Legislature, and illustrated the methods to be followed throughout much of the remainder of the session.

For on the Tax Commission abolition measures, members of the majority in both houses made simple explanations of the meaning of the bills and the supposed need thereof, and allowed Republicans to supply the oratory. Then the Democrats voted their bills over without noise or contention.

Week-end conferences between Democratic Senators indicated that the program, as previously outlined in the Post-Dispatch, is to be pushed through the Senate as fast as possible to clear the decks for appropriation bills.

What Program Includes. The Democratic program includes bills to cut the direct State property tax from 7 to 6 cents to vote reduction of the income and corporate franchise tax and information gathering and budget powers of the Tax Commission in a department of revenue and disbursement to abolish the present bureau of traveling commissioners of the State Auditor and vest its powers in a State accountant, appointed by the Governor; to eliminate duplication and extravagance of printing in various departments; to consolidate the State beverage inspection, hotel inspection and pure food and drug inspections; to trim the number of employees in law departments and to revise the Public Service Commission.

It is stated, authoritatively by Democratic Senators that no tax increase measure has much chance of getting through this Legislature and that the cut in the direct property tax will be made if the appropriation bills stay within the estimated savings of $11,000,000 for 1923 and 1924. The Senators also indicate that there is no majority inclination to cripple the Public Service Commission, although a decided desire to revise the law under which that body operates in the end of its legal department may give more adequate assistance to municipalities and individuals appearing before the commission seeking redress against public utility.

Hawaii Immigration Move. WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Temporary admission of otherwise ineligible common labor into Hawaii, proposed in a resolution reported yesterday by the House Immigration committee, was attacked today in a minority report filed by Representative Ross. Democrat, Texas, who said it would introduce "pernicious" elements into the Hawaiian Islands and into the United States.

LEADERS FAVOR U. S. ENTRY INTO INTERNATIONAL COURT

Prominent Men Say President Has Taken Wise Step in Response to Growing Sentiment for League.

United Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. — NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—At the request of the New York World many of the prominent men have expressed their views upon President Harding's proposal to the Senate that the United States become a member of the permanent Court of International Justice at The Hague and, at the same time, avoid any legal relation with the League of Nations. Some of the men who received yesterday follow: William B. Parker, former Justice of Appeals, and once Democratic presidential candidate. It is a fact that political ambitions and compromise long ago as would have made our nation a party to a League of Nations at least. The circumstances it seems to me that the President has taken the wisest step possible at the moment, and that it will be promptly acquiesced in by the Senate.

Senator L. V. Holt, formerly counsel of the State Department. The President, I assume, is merely a gesture to soothe the growing majority of the American people who are demanding a policy of participation in the world's affairs, as the administration could not have had any serious thought that it would be considered at this session of Congress. However, any recognition of the reality of our participation in matters beyond our own borders should be encouraged.

George Gordon Battle, lawyer. I am heartily in favor of our Government becoming a member of the international court. I believe the court offers the best opportunity for the different nations of the world to settle their disputes according to principles of reason and justice, instead of by force and deceit. It not only will give a specific advantage to our country for our Government to become a member of the international court, but it will be of even more advantage as an evidence of our growing conviction of our people that it is necessary to the protection of our own interests, as well as for the benefit of the world, that we should enter into a plan of co-operation with the nations in order to stabilize conditions and prevent recurrence of future wars.

William Jay Schieffelin, head of the Citizens' Union. The President's proposal is a long step in the right direction and should be supported by Democratic as well as Republican Senators.

Samuel Gompers, president American Federation of Labor. We ought to enter the Hague tribunal. I can see no chance for any argument against such a step. I am for doing it now, as suggested in the President's message to Congress. That we must for the time being remain out of the League of Nations seems necessary because of a necessity imposed by the obduracy of some of our minds. But, rather than not enter the court at all, let us enter as we may and let us help. It is to be hoped that those who have been called irreconcilable will not be irreconcilable to this modicum of reason and justice.

HARDING PROPOSAL IS GRATIFYING TO LEAGUE OFFICIALS

Conditions Mentioned by the President Not Likely to Offer Any Difficulties, It Is Felt.

TRIBUNAL ALREADY RECEIVING CASES

Pointed Out That Decision to Join Court Now Rests With America—League Has Already Acted.

By the Associated Press. GENEVA, Feb. 27.—President Harding's proposal for American participation in the international court has been received with the deepest interest in league circles. Officials of the League of Nations, while reluctant at this stage to comment on the subject, do not disguise their satisfaction over the developing interest of the United States in the permanent court. The conditions mentioned by the President, it is felt, are not likely to offer any difficulties to the league assembly in September, which will finally decide, after exact terms have been agreed upon at Washington.

It is pointed out that the decision now rests with the United States, as the league has already acted by naming Elihu Root to the court's commission, which framed the court statutes, by electing John Bassett Moore as one of the judges and by inserting a provision in the statutes that the court is open to America without that nation joining the league.

American support of the permanent court is considered most desirable as a further endorsement of the principle of the judicial settlement of international disputes, but at the same time it is not absolutely essential. The court has already received seven cases for adjudication and expects five more within a few months. Further developments in Washington will be followed closely, but it is realized that the problem is wholly American until the terms on which the United States will join are definitely settled.

NEUN AMONG 3 REPUBLICANS SEEKING NOMINATION TO PRESIDENCY OF ALDERMEN

Entry of Chairman of G. O. P. City Committee Follows Special Meeting—Primary March 9 and Election April 3.

A three-cornered race for the Republican nomination for the presidency of the Board of Aldermen will feature the city primary March 9, preceding the election April 3, at which a president and 14 members of the Board of Aldermen are to be elected. The time for filing of candidates for those offices closed at 9 p. m. yesterday.

Six members of the Board of Education also will be elected April 3. Nomination of candidates for the Board of Education is by petition only, the last day for the filing of which is March 19.

The contest for the Republican nomination for presidency of the Board of Aldermen was considerably complicated late yesterday when Walter J. G. Neun, of 5915 Clemens avenue, attorney and chairman of the Republican City Central Committee, filed his declaration as a candidate.

The other candidates, Edward L. Kuhs, of 5533 Church road, automobile and real estate man and Alderman at the First Ward, and Oliver T. Remmers, of 736 King's highway Park, attorney for Anheuser-Busch, Inc. Kuhs filed yesterday, and Remmers filed last Friday.

Special Committee Meeting.

Neun and Kuhs got into the race after a special meeting of the Republican City Committee yesterday afternoon. The committee had held a meeting Saturday afternoon following which it became known that a number of committeemen were not satisfied with the candidacy of Remmers.

Their chief objection was his close political affiliation with City Collector Edmund Koehn, who is regarded as the dominating influence in several of the South Side wards. The committee members opposed to Remmers then began to cast about for someone on whom they could unite to defeat him for the nomination.

Kuhs was advanced by his friends as it is believed a compromise candidate, having strong political attachments to his service in the Board of Aldermen, and residing on the North Side, while Remmers resides on the South Side. The Kuhs backers, until late yesterday, believed they had convinced the anti-Remmers committeemen that their candidate should be the choice of that section of the committee.

WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR ALDERMANIC POST

MRS. REGINA M. BILLINGS.

THE only woman candidate for membership in the Board of Aldermen at the city election April 3 will be Mrs. Regina M. Billings, of 1317 Montclair avenue, executive secretary of the Women's Chamber of Commerce. She filed for the Democratic nomination in the Twenty-sixth Ward and, having no opposition, her nomination is assured. She was an unsuccessful candidate for nomination two years ago.

BOND PROJECTS TO COST $9,937,500 OUTLINED FOR YEAR

Board of Public Service Prepares Plans for Construction to Be Submitted to Citizens' Committee.

DES PERES SEWER ITEM ON LIST

Street Widening and Paving, Electric Lighting, Park and Playground and Hospital Extension Also Included.

Bond issue projects aggregating $9,937,500 were recommended by members of the Board of Public Service for inclusion in the first year of construction under the $7,372,500 bond issue public improvement program, at a meeting today to prepare an outline of construction to be submitted to the Citizens' Supervisory Committee.

No suggestions on priority were made today, a second meeting of the board being called for 10 a. m. tomorrow to designate projects which the board members believe should be built first.

The action was in response to a request by the Citizens' Supervisory Committee that the various city departments submit a report on the status of plans for the improvements, and an outline of the order in which they should be started. Mayor Kiel appeared before the board last week with a similar request, urging "more speed" in getting the bond issue work started.

Money for Legal Department.

An appropriation of $30,000 for the legal department for the first year, to facilitate preparation of condemnation suits, was included in the recommendations today, on suggestion of Director Flak. It was made a part of the street widening item. The legal department now is overburdened with such suits, it was said, and a larger force is considered necessary. These suits must be carried through the courts before some of the improvement work can be started.

Recommendations made by the board today on the work considered necessary during the first year of the program follow:

Street widening—$50,000 for legal department; $2,000,000 for Olive street widening. Twelfth boulevard to Channing avenue.

Street paving—$200,000 for streets, including Twelfth, Russell to Chouteau; Soudard, Twelfth to Fourteenth; Loughborough, Colorado to Field; Loughborough, Field to Gravois; Watson road, Southwest to Pernod.

Electric street lighting system—$1,250,000 of the $8,000,000 for the legal department; $40,000 additional for preparing plans, to be drawn from $300,000 unexpended balance from bond issue voted in 1920 for lighting purposes; $10,000 from same source for experimental work.

Construction and reconstruction of sewers—North Baden relief sewer, $450,000; Ohio-Montrose relief sewer (in Mill Creek Valley), $550,000; surveys and plans for building old sewers, $50,000; installation of additional inlets in various sections of city, $75,000; repair of crumbling sewer outlets along Mississippi River, $150,000.

River des Peres sewer and storm channel, $1,000,000 for first section to be built, probably from Manchester avenue north through Forest Park; $105,000 for Gravois avenue bridge over River des Peres.

Improvement of existing parks and playgrounds—$200,000 for work in all parks.

Municipal power plant and mechanical building—$1,000,000, full amount of issue voted.

Hospital extensions—$485,000 to make start on general five-year hospital plan.

Fire Department motor equipment and reconstruction of engine houses—$772,500, full amount of issue.

Waterworks on Missouri River—$1,500,000, including $450,000 for construction of dikes, $810,000 for river intake and engine pits, $250,000 for a service road from Hine to plant site on Howard's Bend of river, purchase of land, railroad switches and other construction.

In addition to the report which the board will finish drafting tomorrow, heads of the departments plan to forward with this report letters from the departments giving summaries of the whole program, as it affects the various departments, and tentative distribution of the work over the 10-year construction program which was pledged in the bond issue campaign.

The board approved a request by the Citizens' Supervisory Committee for office room at the city hall. The office will be kept open daily by the assistant secretary.

Skull Found in Patagonia Said to Be That of a Man Of Millions of Years Ago

Fossilized Human Relic, Perhaps the Oldest Ever Unearthed, Thought to Be of the Tertiary Period.

By the Associated Press. BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 27.—Discovery of a full-sized human skull of the tertiary period was announced yesterday by Dr. J. G. Wolf, who has just returned after two years of exploration in Patagonia on behalf of the La Plata Museum. Dr. Wolf declared the fossilization was that of tertiary sandstone and that there was no doubt it was formerly the skull of a human being, not an accidental formation.

The lower jaw is missing, but otherwise the skull is almost perfect. The eye-sockets and what is still more convincing, the sockets of the teeth in the upper jaw are clearly defined. The cranium is long and oval, and the forehead extremely low and sloping.

Dr. Wolf was formerly attached to the division of anthropology of the Canadian Geological Survey. He went to Patagonia primarily to study the language and mythology of the Indians and found the skull in the possession of a white settler on the Andean slope, who picked it up some years ago and kept it as a curiosity, not realizing its scientific value.

Dr. Wolf said he had left the fossil in the possession of the settler, whose property it was, and that he had submitted data thereon to the La Plata Museum for such action as the museum cares to take to obtain it.

PERHAPS ONE OF EARTH'S FIRST MEN

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Anthropologists said today that the fossilized human skull, believed to be of the tertiary period, discovery of which was announced in Associated Press dispatches from Buenos Aires last night, may be the oldest human relic ever unearthed.

If proved authentic, Dr. Frank B. Rowley, Columbia University anthropologist and writer on prehistoric man, asserted it would be even older, possibly 500,000 years, than the skull of an erect man, known as the Pithecanthropus Erectus, which was found in Java, 25 years ago. It may even prove, he said, to be the skull of one of the earth's first men.

"This discovery," he said, "will throw light upon this hitherto unknown period." Dr. Rowley has been studying the fossilized skull for some time. He explained that it was during the tertiary period that the earth assumed its present geographical form and huge reptiles were being replaced by mammals. The close of the tertiary period, he said, was the period of the North American Hemisphere.

"The earliest man, scientists have found, dates back to around the glacial period," Dr. Rowley said. "This has not been definitely established. If it is definitely established that man existed in the tertiary period, it will upset all accepted scientific views regarding the American continent and the antiquity of man."

WADE SAYS TENSOR COMPANY MIGHT HAVE PULLED THROUGH

Testifies That With Proper Management a Way Out of Its Difficulties Could Have Been Found.

Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Co., testifying yesterday before Federal Judge Paris in a suit against the bank by John F. Schaffly, trustee in bankruptcy of the Tensor Corn and Fruit Products Co., to recover $67,500 alleged to have been wrongfully transferred by the bank from a sinking fund to the bank, declared the Tensor company might not have gone into bankruptcy if the men forming the committee chosen to plan a way out of its difficulties had been stronger business characters.

In the suit of the trustee it was alleged the Mercantile Trust Co., knowing the Tensor company was insolvent, took the money sued for and applied it as part payment of bank loans due from the preserving concern, thereby preferring themselves.

Testimony was introduced to show that Wade was regularly informed during 1921 of the steady losses sustained by the Tensor company from operations during that year, which for the 12 months amounted to more than $1,000,000. Wade said that during all of that period there was a chance for the company to pull through its difficulties with proper management. The case was taken under advisement.

perjury Committee showing condemnation suits are pending for acquiring right of way for 20 of the street widening projects in the bond issue. The street widening item provides $4,500,000 for the city share on 35 projects, the total cost of which is estimated at $24,000,000.

Cost of this litigation, Hall said, is chargeable to the bond issue and should not be paid from general revenue. He gave an opinion the Board of Aldermen could pass ordinances for temporary appropriations from general revenue, to pay litigation costs before the first bonds are sold, with a provision the general revenue account be reimbursed when bond issue funds become available.

HOUSE FAVORS $500,000 AID FOR RIVER BARGE SERVICE

Mississippi Warrior Line Could Make Up Anticipated Losses Under Measure.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The House yesterday passed the third deficiency bill, which contains a proposed appropriation of $500,000 for the Mississippi-Warrior barge line operation. The purpose of the item, explained in debate, is to enable the line to pay expected losses on the Warrior for the next 10 months.

"The barge line," said Chairman Madden, of the appropriations committee, "has about $600,000 in quick assets. They could dispose of the assets if we were going to close down the transportation line, and come within $200,000 of paying every bill that they owe, but they must have money to run the business as any other business must." Madden added that the line expected to recoup its losses next year.

The whole proposition, said Representative Madden, of Mississippi, "would show a 'magnificent profit' if it could get an equitable division of rates with the railroads."

FLURRY IN U. S. SUPREME COURT OVER ST. LOUIS LAWYER

O. J. Miller's Right to Practice There Challenged But He Is Permitted to Proceed With Case.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The western of the Supreme Court chamber was disturbed by a little flurry yesterday over the right of Oliver J. Miller, a St. Louis lawyer, to practice before the court. Miller, who has a case pending, was introduced by Congressman Cleveland A. Newton of St. Louis, was accepted as a member of the bar and sworn in.

Harold Kober of St. Louis, who is prosecuting his appeal against the Missouri Supreme Court, challenged the right of Miller, the opposing counsel, to make a motion in the case. Kober asserted that Miller had never been admitted to practice in the Eastern Missouri District and was therefore not eligible to appear before the Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Taft called Miller before him and asked whether he had been admitted to the bar of the Missouri Supreme Court. Miller replied that he was admitted nine years ago. Showing some impatience with Kober, the chief justice declared that Miller was plainly entitled to practice before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Supreme Court attaches did not recall any previous instance of a protest by the League of Nations against the admission to the bar of the Court.

CASE AGAINST BERGER DROPPED

Government's Hand Weakened by Appeal Court Ruling.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Charges of conspiracy to obstruct the recruiting and enlisting of military forces made against Victor Berger, Milwaukee Socialist, and four other defendants convicted with him three years ago, were dismissed before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson two weeks ago. It became known yesterday that Berger, with Adolph Germer, national secretary of the Socialist party; William F. Kruse, national secretary of the Young People's Socialist Party; Louis Engdahl, editor of the American Socialist, and Irwin St. John Tucker, Episcopal rector, were sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment.

A new trial was ordered and Edwin A. Olson, District Attorney, reviewed the evidence. He said he found that the Government's case was weak because of matter ruled out by the Circuit Court of Appeals. Because of this fact, Harry M. Daugherty, Attorney-General, agreed to dismiss the charges.

GRAND OPERA AT CINCINNATI

By the Associated Press. CINCINNATI, Feb. 27.—Presentation of another grand opera season at the Cincinnati Zoological Garden has been definitely decided upon, Charles G. Miller, business manager of the garden has announced. The season will commence on June 24 and will run for eight weeks or longer. The undertaking for a time seemed in doubt because of labor troubles, stage changes and a demand for an increase in wages. This has been amicably settled.

Ralph Lyford, managing director of the Zoo Opera Company, announced rehearsal for the chorus has already started. Announcement of the repertoire will be held in a few days. The company had a rehearsal until Lyford announced that he would introduce "ponies" among the animals and would flow into the opera house and into the United States.

ONE WOMAN CANDIDATE

Republican Aldermanic candidates are unopposed in the Second, Fourth, Eighth and Ninth wards, and the Socialist nominee for the United States Senate at the November election. By agreement with union labor organizations the Socialists have no ticket in the first ward election, both a candidate for the post of Aldermen in each ward, none being opposed for the nomination.

The only woman candidate for Alderman is Mrs. Regina M. Billings of 1317 Montclair avenue, who is seeking the Democratic nomination in the Twenty-sixth Ward. She has no opposition in the primary. Mrs. Billings, who is executive secretary of the Women's Chamber of Commerce, was defeated for the same nomination two years ago.

ES TO ABOLISH TAX

ODY ARE ENGROSSED

the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 27.—Argument by the Senate and House yesterday of bills to abolish the State Tax Commission marked the beginning of the final drive to enact the law the retrenchment program of the Democrats, who control the next Legislature, and illustrated the methods to be followed through much of the remainder of the session.

For on the Tax Commission abolition measures, members of the majority in both houses made simple statements of the meaning of the bill and the supposed need to supply the allowed Republicans to supply the vacancy. Then the Democrats read their bills over without noise or interruption.

Two-day conferences between Democratic Senators indicated that the program, as previously outlined in the Post-Dispatch, is to be pushed through the Senate as fast as possible to clear the decks for appropriation bills.

What Program Includes.

The Democratic program includes to cut the direct State property tax from 7 to 5 cents; to vest administration of the income and corporation franchise tax and information gathering and budget powers of the Commission in a department of Finance and disbursements; to abolish the present bureau of traveling commissioners of the State Auditor and vest the powers in a State accountant, appointed by the Governor; to eliminate duplication and extravagance in printing in various departments; to consolidate the State beverage inspection, hotel inspection and pure food and drug inspections; to trim number of employees in some departments and to revise the Public Service Commission.

It is stated, authoritatively by Democratic Senators that no tax increase measure has much chance of passing through this Legislature "not the cut out in the direct property tax will be made if the appropriation bill stay within the estimated revenue of $21,000,000 for 1923 and 1924. The Senators also indicate there is no majority inclination to curtail the Public Service Commission, although a decided desire exists to revise the law under which that body operates to the effect the legal department may give adequate assistance to municipalities and individuals appearing before the commission seeking redress against public utilities.

GIRL FOUND DEAD, MAN WOUNDED, AFTER FIRE

Notes, Found by Bodies Near Burned Boathouse, Tell of Quarrel.

By the Associated Press.
WOODBURY, N. J., Feb. 27.—Viola Staley of Philadelphia was found dead with a bullet in her temple, and Harry Moll, a chauffeur, also of that city, was found unconscious early today, near a burned boathouse at Clarksboro, a short distance from here. Moll also had a bullet wound in the head. He was brought here and has a chance of recovery.

Near the bodies were found two notes, one signed with the name of the girl, in which it was stated that she intended to kill herself because of a quarrel with Moll. The other, signed by Moll, said that he, finding the girl a suicide, feared he would be considered her slayer and therefore he intended to kill himself.

The police said they question the genuineness of the girl's note and are working on the theory that Moll shot the girl and then tried to commit suicide.

Both death notes were in the same handwriting, according to the coroner. The bullet in the girl's head was fired at such an angle she could not have held the pistol herself, the coroner said he believed.

Moll represented to those who saw them that the girl was his wife, authorities said.

"We quarreled," Moll said when he recovered consciousness at the hospital. "She asked me to go out and get a bucket of water. When I came back, the boathouse was on fire and she was lying on the bed. There was a bullet in her head. I did not know whether she was dead or not. I carried her outside. I went back and found the note. I tried to put out the flames. I could not, and I knew the flames would attract many to the place."

"I felt that I would be accused of killing her. There was but one thing to do."

"I put the pistol, which she had used, to my forehead."

Wounded Man Has Wife and Child in Philadelphia.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 27.—Harry Moll, found shot at Clarksboro, N. J., today, near the body of Viola Staley, has a wife and 8-year-old son in this city. Mrs. Carrie Moll, the wife, said that while her husband stayed away at nights, she had no suspicion that he was paying attention to another woman. Moll is a chauffeur. He is about 27 years old. The girl was about 21.

Moll and the girl lived at a boarding house here for three weeks as a married couple. The mother of Viola Staley lived at the same house. She was away today when word of the shooting reached the police.

Conference at Washington to Combat British Control of Crude.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—American and British manufacturers began a two-day conference here today to consider means of combating the British control of crude rubber production and bringing down prices for American products. Among the speakers for the meeting, which was called by Harvey S. Firestone of Akron, O., is Philip H. Lockhart, official of the Federation of British Industries, who is scheduled to discuss the protest of rubber manufacturers in that country against restrictive measures recently enacted by colonial authorities designed to limit production in an effort to maintain prices.

The possibilities of American rubber production in the Philippines and in South America also will be considered and the list of speakers includes Secretary Wallace of the Agricultural Department, who at a recent Cabinet meeting suggested that the Government conduct experiments in rubber culture in the Southern states.

MAN AROUND PRISON SHOPS

Chicago Labor Leader, No. 18,990, Begins Serving Four-Year Term.

By the Associated Press. LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Feb. 27.—Timothy ("Big Tim") Murphy today began a new vocation—handyman about the machine shops at the Federal penitentiary here. The Chicago labor leader, convicted of participation in the Dearborn Station mail robbery at Chicago, yesterday began serving a four-year term which may be reduced to two years and three months for good behavior.

This is the first suit of hand-me-downs that I have worn in 10 years," remarked "Big Tim," when he slipped into a blue denim suit. After being "dressed in" as No. 18,990, Murphy partook of one of many prison meals to come. Lima beans with pork, tapioca pudding for dessert and tea composed his fare. His appetite failed; he did not eat much. At 2:30 last night he went to his cell to sleep on a narrow bunk with a straw tick. At 6:30 this morning the bangle sounded the call to be up. At 7 a. m. "Big Tim" went to breakfast, and at 8 he became handy man of the prison shops. Vincenzo Cosmano, convicted with Murphy in connection with the Dearborn robbery, began to work today in the prison laundry.

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poisons!

Constipation is largely responsible for auto-intoxication that leads to dangerous diseases unless it is not only checked but permanently relieved. Constipation, in fact, is the basis of a majority of human ailments which could be headed off if people would only help rid themselves of this serious, health-undermining condition, which can be easily done.

Constipation must be fought to a finish—not with pills and cathartics, which are dangerous to the delicate membranes of the intestines and temporary at best—but with nature's greatest cereal health food—Bran—Kellogg's Bran, which is as delicious as it is beneficial.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its work because it is ALL BRAN. And it gets permanent relief, ALL BRAN!

is a necessity, for it is the "bulk" of Kellogg's Bran that sweeps and purifies, ridding the system of poisons and bringing conditions to normal. Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoons daily—as much with each meal in chronic cases—and we guarantee that you will get relief permanently and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran is delicious! You do not have to learn to like it. Eat it as a cereal or sprinkle on or mix with hot or cold cereals. Or, cook it with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoons for each person. Kellogg's makes wonderful muffins, griddle cakes, raisin bread, macaroons, etc. Recipes are on package.

Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

ST. LOUIS EVANGELIST WAS KILLED IN GEORGIA WRECK

T. H. Gourley Was on Way Home From Series of Meetings—Wife and Five Sons Here.

By the Associated Press. CALHOUN, Ga., Feb. 27.—Wrecking crews today are clearing the debris and mending the tracks near here, where the Dixie Flyer was wrecked yesterday, causing two deaths and injury to 33 persons. The dead are: D. K. Doak of Atlanta, 39, and T. H. Gourley, 61 years old, 3229 Washington boulevard, St. Louis, Mo. said to be a Bible teacher, who was a passenger. Their bodies and injured persons were carried to Chattanooga, Tenn., by a special train.

Judge Tarver, of the Gordon County Superior Court, called the grand jury into court late yesterday and ordered an investigation of the wreck. The judge said reports had reached him that the train was traveling at an excessive rate of speed over a recently worked road at a sharp curve, and that if so, the engineers should be indicted for manslaughter. One of the engines of the double-header and seven cars left the track during the severe rainstorm. Among the injured are John Grubbs, Wilson, Mo.; W. R. Duseant, West Salem, Ill.; and J. B. Hanback, Mahanet, Ill.

St. Louis Evangelist on Way Home Killed in Wreck of Flyer. T. H. Gourley, who was killed in a train wreck near Calhoun, Ga., was an evangelist and was on his way home from a series of meetings in Macon, Ga.

His mother, wife and five sons, ranging in ages from 9 to 21 years, reside at the Washington boulevard address. He was 61 years old. Gourley conducted evangelistic meetings last summer in a tent at Grand boulevard and Windsor place. He came to St. Louis a year ago from the State of Washington, and for a time was a Bible teacher in the Pentecostal Mission adjoining his place of residence.

MAN'S IDENTITY STILL IN DOUBT

Philadelphia Woman Is Coming to See If He Is Her Husband.

Although an elderly amnesia patient at the city hospital has been identified as S. E. Elmore, a drug clerk formerly employed in Memphis, the hospital authorities continue to receive suggestions as to his identity.

Mrs. Mary Ellis of Philadelphia has telegraphed to hospital authorities that she believes the man is her husband, and that she will arrive today or tomorrow. The patient said he could not remember either Philadelphia or a wife. Another suggestion resulted from an item printed in a newspaper of Orlando, Fla., as to the hunt for Egan Spalding, 55 years old, who made his home with a Chinese laundryman in Orlando, and who left there about a year ago. The patient has said that he remembers having been in Florida.

Curling Iron Kills Hair; New Method Improves It

Many a woman loses the silky, fluffy and brilliant appearance of her hair through habitual use of the hot curling iron. Certainly it can do the hair no good to dry up its natural oil, since the life out of it, making it harsh, brittle and dull. And there's no excuse for continuing the use of that destructive instrument, now that we know what can be accomplished by applying plain liquid salmerine.

The use of this harmless product really preserves the life, lustre and beauty of the hair, and the curly wave effect is perfectly natural looking and most captivating. If you've never tried it, by all means procure a few ounces from your druggist and use enough to maintain your hair from root to tip, putting it on with a clean tooth brush. The liquid salmerine is neitherummy nor greasy, but quite pleasant to use.

$32,000,000 ADVANCED BY SWEDEN TO HOME-BUILDERS
By The Associated Press.
STOCKHOLM, Feb. 27.—By a unique system of state loans to persons who desire to establish their own homes, the Government of Sweden has contributed 120,000,000 crowns, or $22,000,000, to the building of a total of 80,000 homes since 1905, according to calculations made by the Swedish Department of Agriculture.
The "egna hem" literally "own home" movement in Sweden has proved a blessing in enabling young people, and others with limited means, to settle on small farms and to erect cozy dwellings through the help of money loaned at low interest and on easy terms of repayment.
Several thousand city homes also have been acquired through the same plan. While the money is loaned by the Government, the actual administration of funds is done by associations organized for this purpose, which are responsible for interest payments and amortization.
It is reported that the money thus invested by the Government has not only been of immense value in establishing social solidity and contentment in Sweden, but has also brought good economic results through the rise in real estate values since the years before the war.

IF RHEUMATIC
BEGIN ON SALTS
Says We Must Keep Feet
Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid ex-posure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric acid and toxic acids.
Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, sore-ness and pain, called rheumatism.
At the first twinge of rheumatism, get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.
Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.
The best thing to use is Multisified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Multisified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.
Two or three teaspoonsful of Multisified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is all that is required.
Simply moisten the hair with water and rub the Multisified coconut oil in.
It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your

There's Truth in Our Goods
As Well as in Our Ads
When we advertise our bakery products, we put ourselves in the position of having to turn out good stuff—to make good.
If we didn't do this, we wouldn't even hold our present trade—let alone increase it—and "day by day, in every way, our business is getting better and better."
We consider it a good day's work when we put truth in circulation through our advertising and our goods.
We could be wise in our ads and leave honesty out of our bread and cakes—but that would be mere craft.
To say that everything we bake is good, wholesome, pure and clean is truth—this statement is worth a page of argument.

BILL PUTTING POLITICS INTO MUSEUM KILLED

St. Louis Art Devotees Cheer
When Senate Committee Acts in Public Session.

By a Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 27.—St.
Louis politicians will not take Art Hill for two years at least, the Senate Committee on Ways and Means last night having killed a bill by Senator Caulfield of St. Louis, which would have turned the Art Museum over to city hall domination.

Bills which are to be killed in committee usually get the death sentence behind barred doors of an executive session, for legislative executioners prefer to do this work in private. Last night, however, the act was saving by the committee, at Caulfield's request, in the presence of a cheering group of art devotees from St. Louis.

The museum, as is known, is administered at present by a self-perpetuating board of nine members, which has conducted the institution independently of politics. Its revenue is derived from a tax of 2 cents on the $100, which realizes annually about $200,000.

A bill was drawn and sent to the Legislature to abolish the present system and vest control in a board of 12, with eight members appointed by the Mayor and that official, the Comptroller, the Director of Parks and Playgrounds and the President of the Board of Aldermen as ex-officio members. The bill had little chance of passage, friends of the museum having mustered sufficient strength to defeat it on the floor of either house if necessary. But art folk in St. Louis became nervous and descended on Jefferson City last night to massacre the measure. In it were W. K. Bixby, president of the board; Frederick W. Lehmann, Max Kotany, William E. Papin,
Louis LaBeaume, Percy Werner,
Guy Study, Edward Mallinckrodt,
Hugo Koehler, F. E. A. Curley, Lon
Hocker, Blair Riddington, Hector M.
E. Pasmazoglou, Charles Pettus, Charles Senter, Clark McAdams,
Mrs. William Droscher, Mrs. Everett
W. Pattison and Mrs. Clinton Hedley.

The hearing started somewhat inauspiciously for the friends of art.
Senator Phil Bennett of Buffalo, Dallas County; Senators Caulfield and Anderson of St. Louis and Senator Proctor of Kansas City, all Republicans, cross-examined Bixby, the first speaker, rather vigorously.
He was followed by Lehmann and Werner. The tide had turned, however, by that time, and Caulfield broke into Werner's speech, apologizing for the interruption to ask the committee to kill the bill, which was done with gusto.

The St. Louisans, after a very in-artistic cheer, then trooped out under the guidance of Senator Kinney to examine the mural decorations of the Capitol until time to get to their Pullman to return to St. Louis.

ANDERSON INDICTMENT ASKED FOR

New York Prosecutor Presents Evidence to Grand Jury.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Acting District Attorney Pecora yesterday went before the Grand Jury with the request that William H. Anderson, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, be indicted on a charge of grand larceny, and presented as his first witnesses, the Rev. Dr. George Caleb Moor, secretary, and Bertram H.
Fancher, treasurer, of the League.
Dr. Moor was the first witness.
After his testimony had been heard, Pecora presented as evidence books of the league which have been in his possession for several weeks. Pecora said his request for an indictment charging the State Superintendent with grand larceny would be based upon disposition of $24,700 which the dry leader said had been used for publicity purposes. Anderson, having refused to waive immunity, will not appear before the grand jury, Pecora said.

How Old Dutch Cleanser "chases dirt"

Millions of women who know that results are the real measure of value use Old Dutch. They know that Old Dutch Cleanser is economical, that it gives you most for your money.

But Old Dutch is more than just economical; it saves you time and work.

The secret is that Old Dutch is a natural cleanser. Its very fine particles which are of a flat character—not sharp and jagged like hard scratchy grit—spread over more surface and do more cleaning. And easily remove all the dirt in a clean sweep with little time and effort.

When Old Dutch has charge of your cleaning, your household things are in good hands.

Take aluminum, for instance: Old Dutch erases all the dirt and impurities from this soft metal thoroughly and quickly; it keeps your utensils bright and new and at the same time they are sweet and wholesome.

The same is true in cleaning kitchen sinks, washstands or bathtubs. All such enameled surfaces are easily scratched by hard, sharp grit and then they become dull and dingy-looking as the dirt is ground in.

Old Dutch contains no hard grit and won't scratch. It takes ideal care of every surface.

Use it for all cleaning—sink, bath, walls, utensils. It's your best helper, saves you time, money and work.

Seven Coaches in Charge As Cardinals Start Work For 1923 Flag Campaign

Arrival of Rickey and Shaughnessy Will Bring Grand Total of Instructors Up to Nine, One for Each Position—Muscles Sore After First Day's Workout.

By Herman Wecke, Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

BRADENTOWN, Fla., Feb. 27.—Aching arms, legs and backs were numerous in Camp Cardinal today. The early arrivals emerged from their first practice of the season yesterday with the usual casualties to soft muscles.

Of course, the demon athletes were not allowed to cut loose by Acting Manager Bert Shotton and the six other coaches; nevertheless, there were overzealous ones who wished to show all their pitting and fielding wares the first day out.

One of the hardest workers in the lot yesterday was Rogers Hornsby. Hornsby was the first man in uniform and the last to leave the field. Rogers swung in the batting practice and then, during infield work, he labored at second base. Several times Shotton told him to cease firing, but Hornsby would quit only for a short time. He finally finished by caving in at first base. After coaching several youngsters.

Fifty Athletics Work Out.

There is one thing necessary at this camp. President Sam Breadon and Manager Rickey recently decided that they favored the numbering of players' scheme. This might be used to good advantage here. With members of three teams working out at the park, one needs some indexing system to distinguish the noble athletes one from another.

There were approximately 50 players contented with the various aggregations at work here yesterday, and it was no light task to pick out those belonging to the Cardinals. While it has been determined at what Ray Blader's position will be this season, he practiced at third base yesterday. Some of his stops were nifty, indeed. Roscoe Holm and Edgar and Hattin were head at short. The only first-sacker now in camp belongs to the Syracuse club. He is Guy Moore.

Meet Our Mr. Doolan.

Another member has been added to the coaching staff of the Cardinals. He is none other than Mickey Doolan, former shortstop for the Philadelphia Nationals. Just what Doolan's duties are to be has not been determined. But being an old shortstopper, and a mighty good one at that, he will find plenty of work, inasmuch as there probably will be some dozen candidates for this one position with the team this year.

Doolan yesterday confined his efforts to hitting on the outfield and infield. That old boy always did display a lot of pep and he may be able to inject some of it into the members of the Cardinal club.

The athletes will have a regular gram-covered infield to work on this spring. Then there is a new grand stand and ever hing.

There is one trouble, according to Hornsby. The ground on the infield is so hard that it takes an eagle eye and a lightning foot to follow a batted ball.

The outfield is sandy, which will make it tough on the men's feet. There should be no excuse for these fly chasers not getting excess tonnage off.

Weather today is ideal, with the temperature hovering about the 40 mark. And the natives say it is cool.

Heine Mueller confined his work to pulling a few "boners," hitting and chasing around the ball park several times.

A Coach for Every Position.

One player who was booked to report failed to put in an appearance. He was Johnny Stuart, the former Ohio State pitcher, who recently underwent a tonsillitis operation and will be delayed for a few days. All others were present when Shotton counted noses.

If coaches mean anything then the Cardinals should be about as well off as any club. Aside from Acting Manager Shotton and Doolan, there are Rogers, Barrett, Hunter, Hill and Fred Hunter. Shaughnessy will be here next week. While Manager Rickey is due the latter part of this week.

Giants in St. Louis Today; Bancroft Demands $12,500

Rumors of Trade Arise as New York Captain Holds Out.

A party of regulars of the New York Giants arrived in St. Louis at 1:55 o'clock this afternoon en route to Martin Springs, Tex. In the absence of Capt. Dave Bancroft, who is a determined holdout, Frank Frisch, second baseman, is in charge of the party of world's champions.

Heine Groh is due to join the squad here and it is possible that Bancroft will also be among those who depart from St. Louis on the Sunshine Special for the South at 6:45 p. m.

It is understood that Bancroft has asked for a raise of $2500 in salary. It is reported that he has pointed out to the Giants' management that he is more valuable to the team than either Groh or Frisch, each of whom is getting $12,500 per year on a two-year contract. Bancroft received $10,000 last season.

In the wake of the departure of the Giants from New York yesterday, rumors were spread indicating that McGraw contemplated trading Bancroft. One prime difficulty stands in the way of such action—the fact that Johnny Rawlings, utility infielder, is also a holdout.

Four Others Balk.

Rawlings is wintering on the Pacific Coast and he failed to join Jimmy O'Connell, Cunningham and Kelly when the latter left San Francisco for camp two days ago.

No recent word has been received at Giant headquarters from Jack Bentley, Bill Ryan or John Scott, all holdouts. They have been notified that they are not to report to the training camp unless they have signed contracts.

The advance squad of New York, under the wing of Cozy Dolan, coach, passed through St. Louis a week ago.

Owens to Coach Miller Barbers.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 27.—Frank "Yip" Owens, veteran catcher with the Minneapolis American Association club, has been signed to coach the Miller barbers this year. It was announced today. He will report with the first squad at Clarksdale, Miss., for spring training in about 10 days.

Browning-Kings Win BASKETBALL TITLE BY DEFEATING PRENDERGASTS

Tomorrow evening the first round of elimination games for the championship of the Municipal Basketball League will be played at Battery A gymnasium.

The Browning Kings last night won the title in the Wednesday Night Division by defeating the Prendergasts, 27 to 22. They will face the Lafayette-South Sides in tomorrow night's elimination series.

In the other half of the double-header tomorrow, the Elacocks will oppose the Brookings. The first game will be a double-header.

Tommy White at left forward for the Browning Kings, proved the undoing of the Prendergasts last night. He scored 15 points, including a 10-point run in the fourth quarter.

The pitching squad of the Cleveland Indians will leave today to join their mates at Lakeland, Fla.

Dodgers Get Going.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Taking up the legwork to the Southland already started from all sections of the north by major league baseball players, a trio of Brooklyn pitchers, the first members of that club to start, will embark on the steamer Lenape today for Jacksonville, Fla. There will be a general assembly of the team there March 8.

Firpo, Best Physical Hope Since Jeffries, Too Slow for a Champion

Thunderbolt From the Pampas Will Have to Speed Up His Boxing if He Is to Beat Dempsey—Ponderous Fighters Are Easy for the Titleholder.

By John E. Wray, Sport Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

This "Thunderbolt of the Pampas," Luis Angel Firpo, who is now in New York preparing to make a real bid for popular favor as a heavyweight ring title candidate, merits a little attention.

This is not because of any ring achievement, for since he emerged from the obscurity of Jersey City a year ago he has won four fights, none from a boxer of merit. His last battle was before a howling throng of Argentine fans, across the river from Buenos Aires, and he then defeated the Australian Jim Tracey.

If James himself had previously beaten anything, it must have been the family car. Firpo is a big, ponderous fellow, and he is slow. He is slow in the ring, and he is slow in the street. He is slow in the ring, and he is slow in the street. He is slow in the ring, and he is slow in the street.

Firpo a Real Man.

Although Willard topped the South American in tonnage, in fighting shape this Firpo enters the ring a bigger man in many ways than the mightiest heavyweight the world has known. James J. Jeffries. Firpo will fight at 225 to Jeff's 220 or less.

Firpo is taller than Jeffries by two inches and has a four-inch longer reach. His normal and expanded chest measurements are three inches greater than those of Jeffries, while his biceps and wrists are but slightly smaller than those of the powerful former champion. Jeff, it will be remembered, had the greatest forearm of any fighter that ever entered the ring, and Firpo is but little short of him in this respect.

It is in his forearm that Dempsey carries much of his sleep-producing power, especially in those short-arm jobs and hooks to the body that gradually mush up an opponent and often him for the final hook to the jaw, with which the tiger champion ends most of his bouts.

Firpo will be nothing short of Dempsey in physical equipment and will surpass him in many respects. Firpo will have it on Willard in youth and perhaps in striking power, for his record belies the stories of the fearsome blow he can deliver. In fact, Jess was not a knockout fighter because he could not land his slowly delivered blows on a fast moving target.

Firpo Has Terrific Wallow.

In his bouts in this country Firpo has been described as slow, but capable of dealing a terrific blow. To remain in the race he must speed up. For the boy who beats Dempsey will have to be something faster than a moving van.

Firpo is matched with Bill Brennan.

Brownies Reach Camp at Mobile For First Workout

Twelve Players, Manager Fohl and Coaches Run Into Rain Storm.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 27.—Manager Fohl, his assistants, Leifeld, Weisman and Coleman, gathered their clan of Brownies here this morning and counted 12 players, for the main part pitchers and catchers.

The team arrived at 8 o'clock on a practice workout was scheduled for this morning at the Mobile Southern Association park.

Fohl brought only seven players with him from St. Louis but Joe Billings, Dixie Davis, Charlie Root, Lou Kraft, Joe Mathas and Carl Weisman had already arrived here.

It was raining at an early hour this morning and it is possible that the Browns will not be able to work out of doors until tomorrow. Rain started Sunday night and there was almost a constant fall all day yesterday. The Mobile diamond is well constructed and cared for and there will probably not be any long delay after the rain ceases.

Austin Heads Party.

Jimmy Austin and his little group of athletes from the Pacific Coast are expected to arrive several days in advance of the regular squad which is scheduled to gather here Monday. Austin will bring with him Perry Payne, George Blasholder and Hollis Thurston, all of whom have been in Los Angeles.

The only regular other than the men here is Johnny Tobin, who voluntarily reported a week before the regular squad.

CUE CHAMPION WINS OPENING ROUND MATCH

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Francis J. Appleby of New York last night won the opening round match from Robert M. Lord of the Illinois Amateur Club, Chicago, 106 to 74, in the National Class A Amateur 14.7 ball nine ball championship tournament.

John A. Clinton Jr. of Pittsburgh had more difficulty in defeating Perry N. Collins of Chicago, 90 to 74, in the opening match this afternoon.

Under these arrangements Lewis may have some advantage, however, in the strain Koloff is certain to undergo in trying to get away from the headlocks.

WILLIE HOPPE DEVOTES ATTENTION TO MASSE IN MATCH WITH 'PETE'

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Followers of willards today were keenly interested in the attempt Willie Hoppe is making to regain his ability at line with his match with Jake Schaefer of San Francisco, who has challenged the world's champion in a title which the New Yorker regained from him last November.

The game he won the tournament and his crown Hoppe had secured with his mass shots. His first practice game last night against Charles Peterson of St. Louis was really devoted to line nursing. The champion winning 400 to 15 and averaging 140.

"Red Pepper Rub" is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cures the congestion, aches and pains, and it certainly seems to loosen the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when they penetrate right down into the lungs, congestion, aching muscles and stiff joints relief comes at once.

The moment you apply Red Pepper you feel the tingling heat. In a few minutes the congestion is loosened through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore throat, just get a jar of Rawles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, or any drug store. ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Dan Koloff Evidently Thinks Lewis Needs a Padlock Rather Than a Headlock, to Hold Him
Champion Lewis and Dan Koloff
To Wrestle at Coliseum March 7; Headlock Test Will Precede Bout Titleholder Declines to Accept Bulgarian's Offered Handicap, but Will Prove His Main Reliance Is Not a Joke in Specially Arranged Contest.
Dan Koloff, Bulgarian heavy-weight wrestler, will be given an opportunity to prove his contention that the famed headlock of Strangler Lewis, world's champion, is not the invincible grip and punishing hold that it has been advertised to be.
Dan will get his chance at the Coliseum on Wednesday night, March 7. Promoter John Contos definitely clinched the match last night.
The bout has been in the balance several days. Lewis holding up final arrangements. It was not clear the champion had any fear of his coming opponent, but that he wanted to be assured a sufficient guarantee to warrant him in taking chance. Also he seemed to hold grudge against the Bulgarian for trying to belittle his pet hold, the headlock.
Koloff, in the Post-Dispatch, twice issued challenges to Lewis in which he stated that he was so confident that the champion's much-heralded hold was the "bunk," that he would give the titleholder his pet grip five or more times in succession and break every one of them. He has made the boast that it was impossible for Lewis to beat him with the headlock, discrediting it to the limit of hitting that the champion sincerely used it for advertising purposes.
Koloff's Offer Accepted.
In making final arrangements with Promoter Contos over the long distance telephone last night Billy Sandow, Lewis' manager, first insisted upon his guarantee, with a percentage privilege, and then he agreed to the suggestion that Lewis take his headlocks on Koloff to prove that, unless Dan went to the mat, he could not break any of them.
After this test the real battle for the championship will proceed.
It was the opinion of Sandow,
Lewis and those in the conference that Lewis, as champion, could not accept any handicap from an opponent in a title contest.
Under these arrangements Lewis may have some advantage, however, as the strain Koloff is certain to undergo in trying to get away from the headlocks.

Genaro to Fight
Villa for Right
To Battle Wilde Briton's Consent to Come to America Enhances Interest in Thursday's Bout.
By Bert Igoe.
The Post-Dispatch Eastern Boxing Authority.
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Jimmy Wilde, greatest of all English fighters, is coming to this country to box Tom O'Rourke's Republican A. C. June 16.
The flyweight champion of the world has accepted O'Rourke's terms and the silver-topped match maker will make an effort to sign the winner of the Villa and Genaro bout with the Englishman.
Wilde has not fought since he was stepped by Peter Herman. He had practically retired until O'Rourke's offer awakened him to the realization that he still might be able to display some of the ability that made him the real terror of the small men of the ring.
Villa and Genaro will settle their argument for good and all, perhaps, in Madison Square Garden, Thursday night. The boys have boxed twice. Genaro being credited with a popular verdict in Jersey and with a referee's decision at Ebbets Field last summer. In our opinion, that was rather a close squeak, that Brooklyn bout, and Villa has always maintained that he won.
The bout on Thursday night will go a long way toward clearing up the flyweight situation here.
Of course, Wilde holds the world's title. He has never been beaten at the weight. Herman was a healthy featherweight when he stopped the hard-hitting Briton.
Wilde tried to do the impossible in giving away so much weight.
That defeat seemed to break the little fellow's spirit and there didn't seem to be any likelihood of his fighting again until O'Rourke received an acceptance of his terms.
Another Filipino on Program.
Elino Flores, Villa's stablemate, will loom up in his old position of semifinalist to the dashing little champion's effort. Ever since the pair came to this country Flores has been forced into second-fiddle position by the brilliance of his tiny friend.
Greb Challenges Tanager.
Harry Greb appeared before the Boxing Commission yesterday and filed a challenge to box Gene Tunney

Iowa Only Unbeaten

Basketball Title Race

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.
UNIVERSITY of Iowa, the only unbeaten basketball team in the Western conference title race, by virtue of its win over Minnesota last night, 29 to 24, not only strengthened its lead, but won the right to claim in A. Funk, a forward, the leading individual scorer in the "Big Ten."
Funk added eleven more free throws to his credit and displaced Harrison Barnes of Chicago, who was leading the conference scorer with 116 points. Funk now has 123 points for the season, 81 being free goals.
The two games last night, Iowa's defeat of Minnesota and the University of Michigan's win over Illinois 27 to 20, did not change materially the standing of the conference teams.
Jack Bloomfield
Greb's Next Foe
Former U. S. Champion Will Meet British "Cruiser" Weight in London.
By Fairplay.
(Copyright, 1923.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—This Jack Bloomfield, champion cruiser (lightweight) of England, whom Harry Greb will meet in London late next month, has all the earmarks of a good fighter. His victories over Harry Drake and Ted Kid Lewis have given him a big standing abroad and a battle with Greb will surely prove to be a paying venture over there.
Bloomfield is undoubtedly a clever boxer. This at least is the opinion of American observers who have seen him in action. He has a two handed body attack that piles up a lot of points and at the same time his right hook is fast, hard and well directed.
Roy McCormick writes that he would be a fine attraction in this country.
McCormick says that Bloomfield is apt to be a bit cautious, doing much of his hitting at too long range to meet his punches effective. In meeting Greb this caution would not stand him greatly in stead because Greb is coming all the time and an opponent has either to fight, clinch or step ground.
On the other hand Bloomfield, who has done most of his training with Frank Moran is regarded as the shrewdest ring general in the British Isles. The one thing they want to know over there is how much he can take.
First Golfer in New York Put in

Notoriety Thus Gained by Thomas Lockhart Enabled Him to Start Yonkers Club.
CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Disputes are still rampant today as to where the first golf was played in America, although the premier recognized club was St. Andrews, at Yonkers, N. Y., formed in 1888.
Antedating this by five years, however, T. A. Bell laid out the first course of four holes at Burlington, Ia., in 1833.
Yet older is the claim made by White Sulphur Springs, Va., which asserts that a course was laid out at the suburbs of Oakhurst in 1822 and the most ancient pretender is Savannah, Ga.
In that Southern seaport someone had dug up an old paper dated Nov. 23, 1811, from the files of the Savannah Historical Society, bearing with it this notice:
"The members of the golf club are requested to meet at the exchange this evening at 7 o'clock."
Savannah Golf Back to 1811.
An invitation to a dance at the golf club of Savannah has also been found. No trace has been found of the links and some have suggested that the word golf referred to something else than the Scottish game.
The first regularly constituted golf club was that at Yonkers founded by Robert Lockhart, who was enabled to gather supporters partly through notoriety he gained in trying to play all day at Yonkers Central Park, New York. He was quickly run in by a policeman who decided a lunatic was loose and would listen to no explanations.
Lockhart soon obtained his release when the Judge recalled having heard of such a game through a joke book or some such print.
A number of persons of cosmopolitan experience other than the Gotham coppers were attracted to the Scottish pioneer by the case and a club was soon formed, and named after the home golf club,
St. Andrews.
PRINCIPAL TANK MEN
MEET PIKERS TONIGHT
The Principia Academy swimming team will oppose the Washington University tank team in Wilson Pool tonight. Last year the Pikers won from the Academy swimmers by a comfortable margin. Tonight's contest will probably be very close as Principia has its 1922 team intact.
Coach Fritz Potthoff of the Academy will doubtless rely on Watson Kimball in the dash events. Last season Kimball lost only one race in the events in which he competed for Principia. In the diving event the Pikers will have Ulrich, star of last year's team. He appears as the most likely winner in that event.

Famous Tennis Rivals Not to

MONTE CARLO, Feb. 27.—Much of the interest in the women's tennis tournament now in progress here was killed when Miss Suzanne Lenglen, world's champion, announced yesterday that she had withdrawn from the singles and would compete only in the doubles.
Mrs. Mallory, putting forth the alibi of bronchitis, postponed signing an entry blank until the last minute.
On the day after Mrs. Mallory entered, Suzanne withdrew from the singles, giving the excuse that her heart was bothering her again.
Miss Lenglen told friends that her ankles were bothering her also.
There was sarcastic comment in the Monte Carlo hotel lobbies that Suzanne's heart and ankles probably would improve after she learned of Mrs. Mallory's poor showing in the opening match.
Miss Lenglen gave no reason for not playing in the singles, but it is believed she is not on her stride and that she did not care to risk defeat.
Miss Lenglen's decision was reached at the last minute and many spectators were disappointed at her failure to participate.
It is thought she is preparing to meet Mrs. Mallory in the tourney at Mentone, March 5, but Miss Lenglen refuses to commit herself to any other statement than that she will decide when the time arrives and not before.
Mrs. Mallory played 26 games before winning her first set in the singles from Miss Howett of Great Britain, yesterday, score, 14-12. She also won the second set, 7-5. With Miss Howett she won her doubles match, in the afternoon.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Willie Darcy drew a step nearer to the flyweight championship by completely out-tiring Charley (Phil) Rosenberg in the star bout of 12 rounds at the Harlem Fairmont A. C. last night.
From the beginning it was apparent that Darcy knew too much for his adversary, and it was only a matter of whether Rosenberg would be able to go the limit with Willie. The fact that he was able to weather the storm in several rounds speaks volumes for Rosenberg's gameness and ability to take punishment.
Jack Cameron and Tom Fahy, joint managers of Darcy, declared after the contest that they would post a challenge for a battle with the winner of

DEACONESS TELLS OF LIFE NEAR THE ARCTIC

Harriet Bedell Only White Resident of Alaskan Indian Village—Conducts Mission.

Deaconess Harriet Bedell, who is visiting here on a vacation after six years' church service in Stephens Village, Alaska, an Indian town of about 120 population, 40 miles below the Arctic Circle and 1600 miles from the mouth of the Yukon River, will not brook the signs of sympathy of her cohorts in this country. She was not forced to go to Alaska, she says, but went of her own volition. And the hardships are negligible. In support of her affection for Alaska and its frigidities, she announces the approaching summer will see her return to her isolated charges, where she will remain indefinitely. It is not lonesome, for part of each year Stephens Village is graced by another white person, a fur trader, and twice yearly mails arrive. There are all the natives to be cared for physically, spiritually, morally and mentally. And only 90 miles away by sled is a village which numbers four white families among its population. If Deaconess Bedell wishes to see them she has only to get a native and his sled and dogs and start her journey in an atmosphere of 40 or 50 degrees below zero. Which seems a matter, of course, to this slight, retiring woman dressed in the simple blue of her order.

Teaches English to the natives. During her stay in the North she has started a mission which now is attended by the majority of the native villagers. A school has been opened for children, and they are learning to read English. The superstitions with which the Indians are saturated are being dispelled, and the insanitary conditions under which they live are nearly done away with. "The curious legends and beliefs of the Indian must be dissolved before they are susceptible to Christianity," Deaconess Bedell said. "They believe that by wearing a bit of hide wound round an arm all diseases are banished. Which is probably no sillier than our aversion to sitting at a table with 13 persons. At least one of the ideas which they have conjured up has a logical basis—that's the belief held by the men that should they do any dirty or menial work they will not be good hunters. So all the labor is done by women. "I have no difficulty with the Indians. Before going to Alaska I spent eight years among them in Oklahoma, so I was fairly familiar with their nature. As it is, after years, the most difficult feature of missionary work is the bad example set by some of the whites. The natives see them gamble and drink, inquire if they are not Christians, and then want to know why they can't live in the same manner. The farther away a white settlement is the better for my work. We have often been forced to move schools because of the approach of our own people."

Finds Natives Kind.

"The village in which I live is governed by a council of six Indians and their chief. They always ask me to attend their meetings, and I do. I find the natives kind. Last year I took a 500-mile trip by dog sled with a native girl and two boys. It was 35 or 40 degrees below zero, but I didn't mind it, as they instructed me in the ways of the trail. Our load got too heavy and necessitated the dropping of our stove and tent. We camped in the open one night and had a roaring fire about which we gathered and had our regular evening prayer service."

"I love Alaska. Everyone does who has ever been there." Deaconess Bedell was given her title by the Bishop of Alaska when she attended an Episcopal gathering in Portland, Ore., last summer, shortly after her return. Since then she has visited her family in Buffalo, N. Y., and called at different Episcopal centers.

NEPHEW OF POINCARÉ DRUGGED AND ROBBED IN BERLIN.

Two Germans Tried on Charge of Robbery and Attempted Murder.

By Wireless to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1933. BERLIN, Feb. 27.—A nephew of Premier Poincaré of France named Keel, who is studying in the Berlin Technical High School, was drugged and robbed by two Germans, the loot including several letters written by the Premier to his nephew. This was brought out in a Berlin court where these two Germans were tried for robbery and attempted manslaughter.

One of the defendants was a man named Walter, who had served Keel as valet when he lived at the Esplanade Hotel. Keel obtained a private apartment through his former valet, who, with an accomplice, entered the room and chloroformed Keel. The accomplice, however, became alarmed and called the police. Both were arrested. Berlin's Nationalist newspapers demand that Keel be expelled.

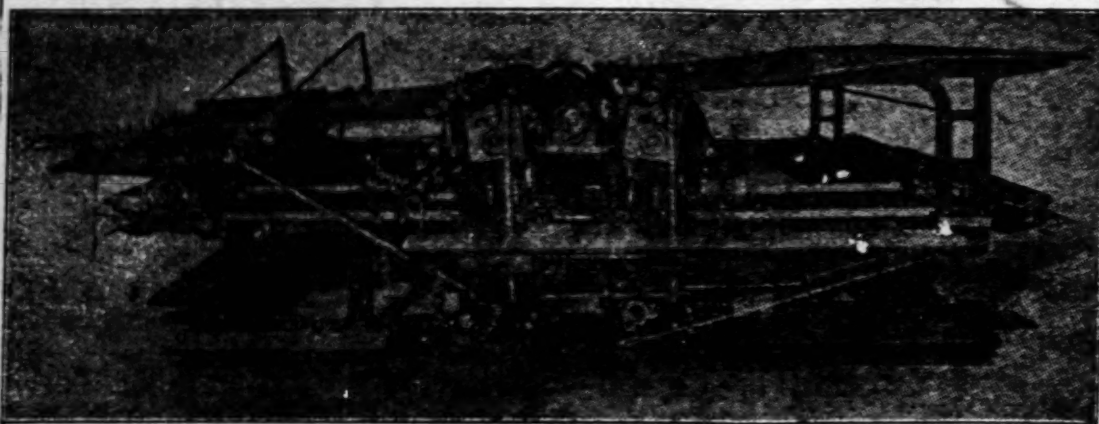

'BONDED' WHISKY 'BOUGHT IN HOTEL' FOUND TO BE POISONOUS

Omaha Hostelry Alleges U. S. Agents Had No Right to Tempt Bellboys to Break Law.

By the Associated Press. OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 27.—The Hotel Fontenelle in answer filed yesterday in District Court to the suit brought by the Federal Prohibition Department to close it for one year, following a raid made by Federal agents Jan. 31, declared that the United States had no legal right through its prohibition agents "by persuasion, and the offer of sums of money to tempt hotel employees into violation of the national prohibition act and thereby bring the hotel into public disrepute." It adds that the suit be dismissed. A report was made by R. K. Ryan, Government chemist of Washington, to whom 13 bottles of liquor, alleged to have been bought from the Hotel Fontenelle bellboys, were sent for analysis. Ryan declared that the liquor which was supposed to have been bottled in bond stuff contained poison which spelled slow death to habitual drinkers. "It is probably a product of re-

A painting that has caused a great deal of stir at the Independent Artists' Exhibit in New York City. One of the consequences of its exhibition has been the arrest of the promoter, under a statute forbidding the display of pictures calculated to bring ridicule or distress to their subjects. This painting shows Christ at the wedding feast at Cana, turning water into wine, while a man painted in the likeness of William Jennings Bryan pours it out on the ground as fast as it is made. In the background a man painted in the likeness of Andrew J. Volstead, author of the famous enforcement act, is represented as protesting against the miracle Christ has just performed. J. Francois Hoffman is the painter of the picture.

Discouraged over her failure to form her royal husband, the bitious girl set out for herself, mastered the Russian language, molded herself and her mind, and in sympathy with the Russian feeling.

had built up such a strong party of her own that with trouble she seized the throne from her worthless husband and the Russian Empire absolutely mastered the Russian language, molded herself and her mind, and in sympathy with the Russian feeling.

A Temporary Insanity

By WINIFRED BLACK

HE'S thirty-five and she's thirty. He's a good business man and a good home man, too. He makes good money and spends most of it on his family. Oh, yes, there's a family, three—rather more than usually nice children.

The man is dead in love with his wife and crazy about his children. He doesn't talk about them down town. He just works hard to take care of them. But the minute he rolls down his desk top, with a snap, he smiles, and begins to think of home.

It's a pretty home, too—with a garden and a conservatory and some porches and things.

What Dad Has to Say. There's the library and the regular living-room of every well-planned house, and a playroom full of toys and books—Louis, Alcott for the little girl and Mother Goose for the babies. Oh, yes, and some of the quaintest pictures and things you ever saw, and the children have tea there every afternoon, English fashion, and Dad gets home to tea once in a while, and then there's a regular party.

Mother comes to the party, too, if she's home, but somehow she doesn't seem to be home, so much these last few weeks.

And she's wearing some very smart new clothes and she has her hair marcelled and her hands manicured, oh, ever so often! And she's out to tea a good bit herself, so, of course, she can't very well manage the affair in the playroom.

And Dad doesn't look quite the same.

He laughs and plays manager, just as he used to, but there's something different about him—even the baby feels that.

Mother feels it, too, but she just laughs—and lets it go at that. And some of Mother's friends are beginning to gossip, and say they wonder how long Dad is going to stand it.

You see, there's somebody else in the story.

The somebody else is a good-looking man—oh, there's no doubt about that, he really is good-looking! And he has a lot of money, and a stunning car. Mother met him when she was home on a visit last summer and then he came to call, and now mother has tea with him, in a smart tearoom, and dinner, too, sometimes—and Dad?

Dad is trying to make up his mind what to do.

"It's only a passing infatuation," says Dad. "She'll be over it soon. There's nothing really harmful in it, but the man is beginning now to write to her every day, and people are talking and even I can see she's infatuated with him, and he's married, too.

"What shall I do? I don't want to leave her. I love her. And then, there are the children."

"I would not desert my daughter in misfortune; why should I desert my wife in what I feel is temporary insanity?"

Needed—A Firm Hand. Rather unusual point of view—for a man—eh?

Women have been shutting their eyes and pretending not to see and "forgiving" for generations—is this a new type of man growing up in this age?

And if it is, what about it? Is it a good idea to be patient—too long?

If a woman is fool enough to make a fool of herself over a man with other obligations when she already has a perfectly good husband, wouldn't it do her a little bit of good to be made to realize that fools usually pay for their folly?

Perhaps, if she thought she'd have to give up her home and her children and the safe protection of a good man's name—she'd come to her senses. It's very easy to be a fool if you're just going to have all the fun of your folly and none of the misery.

And how can a man go on caring deeply for such a silly person?

A firm hand, Mr. Man, and a steady one—you can't let your happiness and your children's happiness be wrecked so easily—can you?

THE CHILD AS A PERSON

By Wm. A. McKeever

Widely Known Lecturer and Author of a National Authority on Juvenile Problems.

"WE" have to drive the children to bed, drive them to get up, drive them to meals, drive them to school and drive them to return home. It is drive, drive, drive. Nothing is done voluntarily. What is the matter with the children of today?

Thus a note of despair comes to me, and it strikes deep into the heart of one of our training problems.

In the first place, you have to drive the children to everything because you have never taken the time to train them to lead. The habit of being driven by urging, scolding, and other forms of pressure, implies also the habit of not thinking for themselves, or acting on their own initiative.

The busy, hurrying, driving type of parent simply does not take time to see things from the children's point of view. He does not realize that the only reliable motive for good conduct and high accomplishment comes from within, and that it is based on personal desire and interest.

Charles is hurriedly trying to mend his kite. You cry to him sharply to come to lunch. He does not respond at once, so you scold and finally complain to me. Now go to his room, ask some questions, get him to explain, take some orders or suggestions from him where he has a right to give them. The results of this kind of show of respect will be magical.

Treat your child as another person, not as a piece of putty. He is not yours to manage and to mold, but yours to have fellowship with in working out your common problems.

You will find that your child has probably never given a simple thought as to why he should go to bed of time, why he should come to meals when called, and the like.

Ask your boy to explain to you, first, what he wants to do or is trying to do. Then, ask him to tell you how he thinks he should be treated in respect to your orders. It will require but a little thinking on his own account, and a decision which he seems to derive through his own effort, to commit your dilatory boy or girl to the idea of being prompt.

The boy who can manage well his kites and skates today is prophetic of the successful business man of tomorrow. The girl who can plan and manage her doll family, or who can adorn her room with her own handicraft, is likely to be a successful woman of her own affairs in the future.

Why not take it for granted that

FASHION NEWS NOTES

PALM BEACH.—A noticeable feature of the season is the preponderance of golf coats. Once upon a time these would have been called sweaters, but they differ from the usual garment of that name by the plainness of their sleeves and backs. The fronts are in checks, plaids or lozenges of contrasting colors.

PARIS.—A fetching bit of jewelry is the newest bracelet shown today, which by reason of a frilly bow is much more obtrusive than bracelets usually are. The bow is of gauze, several inches wide and stands out in sprightly fashion horizontally across the wrist. The bracelet is often of onyx.

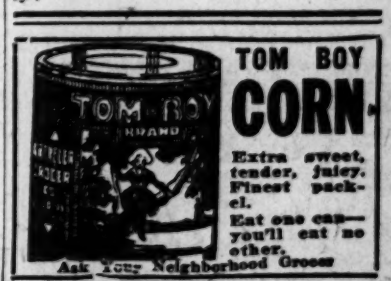

LONDON.—One of the smartest spring costumes seen at an advance showing here recently was of dark blue velvet. The coat, which had wide, bell-shaped sleeves and fell a little below the hips, was trimmed below the elbow and below the waist with rows of oblong patches of black satin.

NEW YORK.—Zircon, the semi-precious jewel of almost diamond-like hardness and brilliancy, are a bit of a fad today with women who can afford such fads. The gems come some times in a peculiarly glossy seawater shade and these are used to outline initials for cigarette cases and other trinkets.

NEW YORK.—Nightgowns of tinted pongee are among the acceptable novelties today. One of these, tinted a deep turquoise, has little puff sleeves above the elbow. A smashing big soft bow of very heavy turquoise satin is set slantwise across the front. It reaches from waist to shoulder.

NEW YORK.—A beautifully gowned woman at the opera on a recent evening carried a broadcated vanity bag in palest green and silver. From the bag she took a powder box done in brocade to match and a pair of opera glasses, also in the green and silver fabric.

PALM BEACH.—The gingham bathing suit which came in for much admiration last season has given place to the bathing suit of cretonne. Even if the swimming costume is of silk, however, the pattern is usually the large, scrawly wall paper design which is a cretonne characteristic.

NEW YORK.—No one would be more surprised than Tutankhamon himself to know the very latest idea, which the discovery of his sepulchre has inaugurated. This is the Egyptian corset. One designer is showing corsets of heavy silk with horizontal bands of Egyptian decorations.

A wide-awake mind and rested body built the Wanamaker business

John Wanamaker realized the value of sleep. Through 85 years of strenuous business life and public service, nothing could keep him out of bed after nine o'clock. He knew that sleep is the nourishment of success.

Wanamaker's nine o'clock rule may be out of the question for you. But you can select sleep equipment that will let you sleep more deeply and restfully than you now think possible. That kind is made by Simmons.

Take ten minutes tonight to study the mattress and spring you sleep on. Then go to your furniture dealer's and examine the wide range of Simmons springs and mattresses at prices fitting any pocketbook. Compare them. GOOD WORK.

"HOW big was Alexander, Pa. That people called him great? Was he like old Goliath, tall. With sword a hundred weight?" "He wasn't extra large, my son. By actual measurement: 'Twas not his stature made him great It was his Press A-gent."

ALL OF THAT.

Saw a man the other day who was wearing a scarf pin made of anthracite coal set in platinum. A vulgar and ostentatious display of wealth, we call it.

Speaking of coal, while with the aid of our bond issue we are expecting to step a bit in the next 10 years we are not inviting the world to watch our smoke.

In spite of our $57,000,000 to spend in brushing up the old village we'll never come clean until the smoke nuisance is abated.

Instead of saying it with flowers we'll soon have to say it with soot.

The consumption of soot per year per capita is said to be 28 pounds. If you don't get yours, tell it to the smoke inspector.

NO CHANCE.

ASHES to ashes and dust to dust. If the smoke don't get you, a flivver must.

WHY NOT?

Having perfected the wireless telegraph and telephone, may we not hope some day to see the smokeless chimney?

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB.

THE REWARD OF THE EARLY RISER.

As a rule, or perhaps I should say as a sex, women do not tell stories as well as men do. However, as someone else has very sanely said, there are exceptions to all rules. In the matter of story-telling abilities I have in mind a most charming exception—a lady tremendously and internationally distinguished in a certain field of artistic endeavor, who is as versatile as she is gifted and who has the ability, when she cares to display it, of putting over an anecdote with faultless effect and finish. To her I am indebted for today's contribution for this symposium.

She tells me that in a small New England town, not far from the town where she was born, there used to be an Irishman of convivial habits. He convined in season and out of it. In fact, he was in a fair way to qualify as the village drunkard.

Late one night—perhaps I should say early one morning—half a dozen natives were on their homeward way after a social evening at the local grogery. At the foot of the main street they stumbled upon the recumbent form of the inebriate whose name was McGuire. Now they were what used to be known in the old pre-Volstead days as "pickled." But he was absolutely petrified. There is a distinction to be drawn here which some of my older readers, who have good memories for the ancient times, will understand.

A pickled person is one who still has the use of his limbs and his faculties. A petrified individual has lost the powers of coherent speech and locomotion altogether. This explanation is made for the benefit of Americans of the younger generation, who, of course, know nothing, save and except by hearsay, of the effects of strong drink upon the human organism.

To resume: At sight of their friend peacefully asleep, athwartwise of the sidewalk, one of the party had an inspiration.

Here," he said, "is a beautiful chance to cure old McGuire of boozing. Let's carry him out to the cemetery and stick him in an open grave, if we can find one. Then we'll hang around and wait until he comes to. He'll think he's been buried alive, and the shock will be a lesson to him."

The suggestion met instantaneous and unanimous approval. The slumberer was picked up by his arms and legs and borne to the burying ground. Circumstances and chance favored the giggling conspirators. In an ancient vault, from which the roof was missing, they found an abandoned coffin. Into the empty box they snuggled their victim and, placing the crumbling lid over him for a coverlet, they hid themselves behind adjacent tombstones to await the climax of their plot.

The wait was a long one, but all of them stayed on, allured by the prospect that their patience eventually would be rewarded. At length dawn showed in the east. Daylight broke, the sun came up and presently it was 6 o'clock. Prompt on the hour the whistle of a nearby shoe factory cut into the morning calm with a shrill siren whoop.

At this blast Mr. McGuire stirred. He threw up his arms, displacing the lid, sat up in his narrow, form-fitting casket and blinked in the rosy light. Then, as he comprehended where he was, a triumphant smile split his face.

"By cripes!" he said, exultantly, "'tis the resurrection day and I'm the first son-of-a-gun up!"

DIARY OF SLAIN CONTRACTOR MAY GIVE MURDER CLEW

"She Threatened to Throw Hot Soup in My Face," Scrawled in Book by Wealthy New York Man.

PERFUMED LETTERS IN HIS APARTMENT

Woman Housekeeper Held Under $25,000 Bond—Report Frederick Schneider Planned to Return to Wife

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—In the penciled scrawlings in a loosely kept diary and the contents of a number of daintily perfumed envelopes, District Attorney Glenister of the Bronx is searching today for a clew to the identity of the murderer of Frederick Schneider, wealthy contractor, in his automobile on a lonely Bronx road Monday.

Convinced that a jealous woman killed Schneider, the District Attorney is checking over the acquaintances of the dead man. In the meantime Mrs. Anna Buzzi, with whom Schneider had lived as his housekeeper for seven years, is held in the Bronx jail under $25,000 bond.

The pocket diary, in which Schneider occasionally scribbled notes of occurrences and the names and addresses of social and business acquaintances, and the letters which he received from women friends, some married, were found in the apartment he occupied with Mrs. Buzzi.

Excerpt From Diary.

None of the letters was made public and only one excerpt from the diary was revealed. It read: "She threatened to throw hot soup in my face today—I never heard a female use such vile language."

The incident was described under date of Jan. 3.

Detectives continued checking the several stories that have been given by persons examined by the authorities, among them Mrs. Buzzi. She admitted complete ignorance of the crime and said she was not outside her apartment during the day.

Her story was contradicted by Harry Shidlovsky, shopkeeper, who said he saw Mrs. Buzzi, alone, drive past his place between 4:30 and 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Nicholas Fuelner, truck farmer, who found the body, said the shooting occurred shortly after 4 o'clock. Records showed an ambulance was called at 5:24.

Mrs. Buzzi said that between 5:05 and 5:25 Schneider was having tea at his apartment. He intended to stay at one of his clubs that evening, she said he told her.

Planned to Return to Wife.

The police are checking reports that Schneider was intent upon returning to his wife, from whom he had been separated since he was named as correspondent by the husband of Mrs. Buzzi when he obtained a divorce. Another rumor was that Schneider intended leaving Mrs. Buzzi and that he had arranged for the furniture to be moved.

Mrs. Schneider, asserting she and her husband were not unfriendly, is quoted as saying there "was something in" these reports. Mrs. Schneider went before the District Attorney today at her own request.

The officials also are interested in the statement of one of Schneider's stenographers, whom he occasionally took driving, that he recently told her that Mrs. Buzzi "raised mortal rinds" and showed flaming jealousy when she learned he entertained other women friends.

SCHOOLBOYS AS BOOTLEGGERS

Two Caught Skidding Beer Across Detroit River.

DETROIT, Feb. 28.—Five youths were in custody of the Sheriff here today as liquor smugglers. Three were detained when deputies found them passing liquor to women inmates of the county jail by means of an improvised rope. Two were arrested while drawing a sled load of beer across the Detroit river from Canada.

The three juvenile smugglers were found in an alley as they were tying the bottle to the end of a rope made of sheets, stockings and strips of torn clothing, that had been lowered from a fourth floor window. The boys captured on the river admitted they had been hired by rum runners to transport the cargo of beer and declared other school boys were making similar trips daily with their sleds and were being well paid.
